TEDDY MAKES HIS APPEAL TO SOUTH

Calls on Dixie to Throw Aside Artificial Political Barriers

PROGRESSIVES HERE TO STAY

Bull Moose Tells New Orleans People They Are Through With the Republican Party — Predicts Successful Fight

New Orleans, Sept. 27.—It was in the interest of the South, said Colonel Roosevelt today, that he came into the Southland to make his appeal in behalf of the Progressive party.

"I want you to emancipate yourselves," he said. "I want you to feel free to vote as your conscience inclines you to. If we win, I want you to take your share in steering the wheels of the nation. I am less engaged in pleading my cause than in pleading yours."

Artificial political barriers had sundered the South in the past, he said, from its own interests. He appealed to those in the South who believed as he believed, to lay aside tradition and join with the new party.

Colonel Roosevelt spent the day in New Orleans. He rode in a parade through the old French section and the parks and later spoke at the Winter Garden.

Tonight he left for Alabama. At the Winter Garden Colonel Roosevelt was given a demonstration which continued for several minutes.

Colonel Roosevelt made a speech which differed throughout from any of his campaign. He said political conditions in the South reminded him of a visit he made to Texas, when a loving cup was presented to him. "There were 10 thousand people present when the loving cup was presented," he said, "and the man who presented it said, 'This is from Texas, where you have more admirers and fewer voters than in any other State in the Union.'"

"Now, I will tell you an anecdote of Louisiana," the colonel went on. "A man of a certain club in New Orleans said to me: 'There was no more rejoicing anywhere than in our club when you were elected.' I replied that there were no symptoms of such a feeling in the vote cast in Louisiana, and he said: 'Well, of course we all voted against you, but we were anxious to see you win.'"

"I am not willing to admit," he continued, "that you and I should be on opposite sides. I come down here to make my appeal that I may stand shoulder to shoulder with those of you who look at the great problems which are facing the nation today as I do.

"The Progressive party has come to stay. We are through once and for all with the Republican party. We're going to make a success of this thing, and we want you to help. I want to appeal to you as friends, guides and allies. I can't help feeling that if I fail to convince you it will be my own fault, for our cause is overwhelmingly strong. I want first to put our party on as healthy a basis in the South as in the East or West or North, and to have it respond to your wishes because you support it because you are a part of it.

"I come here to ask you to join with us on a footing of full equality. I am not trying to appeal to the men who are opposed to the things I am trying to do. The men I am trying to reach are those who do believe as I do, who ought to be with me and who are artificially sundered from me.

"When as President I came to deal with the problems affecting your interests, I was obliged to treat them in a wholly unnatural manner, for there was no representative of yours who did not belong to the party that was supposed to be antagonistic to me. I tried my best while I was President to be President of the whole country, and I should have been ashamed of myself if the interests of the Gulf States had not been as dear as those of any other States."

Colonel Roosevelt gave several examples of the way he said artificial political barriers placed the South in an unnatural position. Although the Panama canal was of particular interest to the South, he said, the chief opposition to the ratification of the treaty with Panama came from Southern Senators, on account of their political affiliations. He referred to the Mississippi floods, saying that although a Democratic House of Representatives had been in session for five months after the flood, no move had been made to prevent a repetition of the disaster. He said he favored utilization of the Panama canal plant for a great project of improvement of the waterways of the Mississippi Valley, which would prevent floods as well as serving many other purposes.

The action of the Democrats in the House in voting for abolition of the tariff on sugar was cited by Colonel Roosevelt as another example of what he meant. He said that the Democratic party stood for free entry of sugar, which would compel the great majority of sugar cane and beet growers to go out of business, whereas the Progressives were opposed both to excessive protection and to lowering the tariff to a point which would harm producers.

"If you don't agree with me upon these matters," he continued, "then you ought to be against me, but if you do believe as I do then I want to find some way so that you and I can get to gether and work for the common good, not merely quietly voting for us, as if you felt rather ashamed to let your brother know about it, but to come out and work for us."

TEXTILE WORKERS START BIG STRIKE

Library of Congress

Twelve Thousand Affected by Walk-outs in Lawrence, Mass.

SEVERAL OPERATIVES HURT

The Strike Was Begun as a Protest Against the Imprisonment of Ettor and Giovannitti—An Extension is Feared.

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 27.—Practically 12,000 textile operatives here had been affected tonight by the great strike inaugurated by Industrial Workers of the World to show their sympathy for Joseph J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, leaders of that organization and as a protest against their trial in connection with the killing of Anna Lopizzo during the strike last Winter, which is to begin Monday in Salem. Tomorrow it is feared there will be an extension of the strike. Mill owners were said to be ready to close down the plants in the event of further walkouts, or if disorders develop.

Mayor Scanlon announced that the mill owners probably would shut down if the situation became worse. "But," he added, "I do not think it will."

In a comparatively mild degree Lawrence experienced today a repetition of the scenes enacted last Winter. Only mild disorders resulted, however.

Some of the more eager strikers, in attempting to get workers to leave their machines, caused slight disturbances in several mills. Reports of a number of injuries were received by the police, but none of the injured was seriously hurt. Clubs, and in one case a revolver, were flourished to intimidate working operatives, and mill machinery at several plants was damaged. A few windows also were broken. The police made only three arrests. These were on charges of assault or destruction of mill property.

Of the 12,000 operatives who quit work, probably one-half did so as a protest against the trial of Ettor and Giovannitti. The others were forced out, either because of intimidation or a result of the closing of their departments.

Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World renewed their assertion tonight that the strike was not sanctioned, was unorganized and without a leader.

Several meetings of Industrial Workers were held tonight. The largest meeting was addressed by Miss Elizabeth Flynn, of New York. She urged the operatives to return to their mills tomorrow or Monday at the latest and await the call of the leaders for a strike. It was announced that William D. Haywood, who directed the strike here last Winter, in its later stages, and who on Boston Common two weeks ago urged a country-wide strike in protest against the detention in jail of Ettor and Giovannitti, had been asked to come to Lawrence. It is expected that Mr. Haywood might arrive in Lawrence Sunday or Monday.

INSECTS CAUSE PELLAGRA?

Dr. Phillip Garrison, Investigating Disease, Holds This Theory

Spartanburg, S. C., Sept. 27.—Addressing the Spartanburg County Medical Society today, Dr. Philip E. Garrison, passed assistant surgeon of the United States Navy and a member of the Thompson-McFadden Pellagra Commission, said that while nothing was positively known about pellagra except the symptoms and diagnosis, and diverse views were expressed about the cause and treatment, not only by General practitioners but in the literature on the disease, the theory that insects had something to do with it was growing.

Dr. Garrison told the physicians that the commission had been informed of 471 cases of pellagra in this district this Summer, and had visited and studied the cases of 260. While the cause and remedy are the objects of the commission's researches, the plan of the investigation has been to gather all sorts of information concerning the lives, surroundings and manner of living in the patients.

The commission investigated thoroughly the theory that pellagra is caused by spoiled corn. While Dr. Garrison did not directly say so, he left the impression that little foundation was found for this theory. The commission also investigated the suggestion that pellagra is caused by cottonseed oil and obtained only negative results. Dr. Garrison said there was reason to believe that cottonseed oil did not cause the disease.

The theory that biting insects produce the disease, first proposed by Dr. Sambon, of the London School of Tropical Medicine, seemed to Dr. Garrison to be worth serious attention.

JOB E. HEDGES HEADS TICKET

Nominated on the Third Ballot for Governor by New York Republican Convention—J. W. Wadsworth His Mate

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 27.—With the selection of Job E. Hedges, a New York attorney, to head the ticket and of James W. Wadsworth, Jr., former Speaker of the Assembly, Hedges' leading opponent for the gubernatorial nomination, as the candidate for Lieutenant Governor as well as a full State ticket, the Republican State Convention, which had been in session here since Wednesday, adjourned late this afternoon. Other candidates selected were:

Secretary of State—Francis M. Hugo, Watertown.

Comptroller—William D. Cunningham, Ellenville.

State Treasurer—William Archer, Mount Vernon.

Attorney General—Meier Steinbank, Brooklyn.

State Engineer—Frank M. Williams, Orange.

For the first time in many years the delegation to a New York Republican State Convention found themselves without a "pre-arranged slate" of candidates, and they settled their problem by the ballot test alone. Three ballots were required to nominate Mr. Hedges, who had led from the start.

There was a dramatic moment when Mr. Wadsworth was nominated for Lieutenant Governor and the delegates were given to understand he would accept second place. His nomination was made by acclamation.

MARCONI HAS RESTLESS NIGHT.

Complains of Pains in Head and Injured Eye Troubles Him.

Spezia, Italy, Sept. 27. — William Marconi, the inventor of wireless telegraphy, passed a restless night as the result of injuries suffered by him in an automobile accident yesterday near Borghetto.

He complained of pains from a slight wound in the head, while the injury of his right eye and many other bruises caused considerable irritation.

Mrs. Marconi, who was not hurt in the collision, sat up nursing her husband through the night.

Further details of the accident show that Mr. Marconi was driving and that the automobile with which his car collided was practically wrecked by the force of the impact. It belonged to a lawyer named Beltrame, who for 30 years resided in the United States. He was severely bruised about the breast, while a number of his son's teeth were broken. The other occupants of Beltrame's automobile, with the exception of the driver, were thrown out, but not hurt.

Mr. Marconi's secretary suffered a dislocation of the shoulder.

Mr. Marconi in spite of his injuries, at once sent a telegram to the Naval Department here asking for assistance.

CAROLINA HAZERS EXPELLED

Six Sophomores Involved In Tragedy At University Have to Leave College—Ten Others Suspended for Year

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 27.—Drastic steps to stamp out hazing at the University of North Carolina were taken today as the result of the faculty investigation of the death of William Rand, the Smithfield Freshman, who recently was killed while being hazed by Sophomores.

Four students, who were forcing Rand to dance on a barrel when he fell and cut his throat on a broken bottle, today were expelled.

Two other students who witnessed the hazing also were expelled for aiding and abetting the principals.

Ten members of the student body who were known to have engaged in hazing either during the present year or last year, were suspended from the institution for one year.

A call was issued today by the secretary of the board of trustees of the University for a metting of that body in the office of Governor Kitchin Monday to receive the official report of President F. R. Venable on the hazing investigation.

OUTLINES

ELIMINATE DEFECTIVE CLASS

Bleeker von Wagenen Declares 10 Per Cent of Population of United States Is Moral Burden On Balance

Washington, Sept. 27.—"Ten per cent of the population of the United State is inherently defective and is an economic and moral burden on the other 90 per cent, and should be eliminated from them," asserted Bleecker von Wagenen, in speaking today to the International Congress on Hygiène and Demography. Efforts should be made to get rid, by proper methods of breeding the human race, he said, of the following nine classes:

Paupers, feeble-minded, those of criminal tendencies, epileptics, insane, except acute cases not hereditary; those constitutionally weak, those predisposed to certain diseases and those having defective sense organs. The method to be adopted to bring this about, he said, was being studied scientifically.

A solution, declaring that not only the gratitude of this nation, but of the world, was due to Dr. Prince A. Morrow, founder of the American Federation for Sex Hygiene, for his work in the effort to stamp out the slave traffice, was adopted by the Congress today.

"Let the Church get out of its comfortable club-like rooms and out of its miserable self-contentment and its anthems, and get out into this work against the great social evil," said Dr. Howard A. Kelly, of Johns Hopkins University, speaking of the work being done to stamp out this evil. He said that the problem should be attacked from all sides simultaneously. The fault for this traffic, he added, lies with the people at large, and is due to the indifference of the public and of the churches. In the fight against this evil, he said, workers were wanted who would go into it for life and who would pass it on as a heritage until final victory was won.

Professor Maurice A. Bigelo, of Columbia University, New York, said that sex hygiene should be taught in the schools and that even if an occasional mistake was made by this method, it should do far less harm than to allow children to get their information from improper and impure sources.

Users of alcohol are more subject to tuberculosis than others, said Dr. Jacques Bertillon, chief of the Bureau of Municipal Statistics, Paris. Every one knows, he explained, that alcohol attacks the liver, but twice as often it attacks the lungs, and he cited statistics showing that among men of from 35 to 95 years of age consumption caused the death of more than twice as many drinkers as non-drinkers. Dr. William H. Boss, Boston, said that alcoholice workmen between the ages of 25 and 44 have more than three times as many accidents resulting in injuries as all other workmen put together.

St. Petersburg, Russia, it is said tonight, is the city which the permanent international commission of the Congress will recommend at the concluding session of the Congress tomorrow as the next meeting place of the Congress.

WILSON COMPLETES NEW ENGLAND TRIP

Winds Up His Tour With Whirl of Speeches and Receptions

RAPS BULL MOOSE LEADER

The Governor Charges Roosevelt Did An Illegal Thing In Permitting Purchase of Tennessee Coal And Iron Company

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 27.—Governor Woodrow Wilson said tonight he felt as if he had "arrived." He finished a three-day trip through New England and in the scores of places where he stopped, people called him "Woody," "Governor" and "Old Boy" enough times to make him feel intimate with the crowds.

It was at Williamantic that evarailed workman, spying the Governor on the platform, cried out: "Hello, Woody, old boy."

"I like that," said the nominee, as he stepped down and shook hands.

With a whirl of speeches and receptions, the Governor completed his New England trip, making an address before a big crowd here. Throughout the day as the nominee journey from Boston, people crowded the stations, cheering and clamoring for buttons.

The Governor had passed through Hartford three times, but found another crowd there today.

"I thought you'd had enough of me ae Hartford," said the candidate.

"Oh, no," came in a chorus from the crowd and the Governor shook hands with a great number.

At Williamantic the Governor made a brief speech. "As I stop in this particular place," he said, "I cannot but think of the absentee landlords who own their thread industry and do not live here, because of the course of the difficulties of our whole political arrangement in the United States is that the people that run us don't have anything to do with us, and stand off at a distance and find it very difficult indeed to judge of actual conditions."

In an address at Boston today, Governor Wilson charged that former President Roosevelt had done "an illegal thing in order to build up an irresistible power" in permitting the purchase by the United States Steel Carporation of the Tennessee Coal and Irion Company.

"I do not wonder that the leader of the third party thinks that trusts are inevitable," said the Governor. "He never found any way of checking them and he thought it was inevitable that the Steel Corporation should buy the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and that the chief executive should consent to any illegal thing in order to build up an irresistible power. If it is inevitable that the government should yield to those powers, the sooner we know it the better.

"And I am sorry that any man who has had experience in that great office should come out of it with that conviction. He despairs of displacing the power, and all he can suggest is that we try our best to make the trusts good, pitiful, kind and just, by which we transfer our own affairs to those who by subtlety have combined against us."

The Governor made several references in his speech to Colonel Roosevelt, declaring that even if he were elected he would have "no third party Congress" behind him. "He would be a lonely official," added the Governor, "not that he minds it, because he finds himself in good company. But he hasn't even yet claimed the right to pass acts of Congress."

BRIDE OF A DAY SHOT DEAD

Disappointed Suitor Kills Her In a Crowded Railroad Station

Lacrosse, Wis., Sept. 27.—Yesterday Ella Thompson, belle of Desota, Wis., became Mrs. Sever Yttri through a wedding ceremony considered one of the most notable in the village. Today she was shot dead in the Burlington Railroad passenger station at Lacrosse, and John Peterson, a disappointed suitor, who later inflicted a slight wound in his head, was arrested on a charge of murder.

The shooting occurred in a crowded waiting room. Mr. and Mrs. Yttri were to take a train home when Peterson approached and, according to witnesses, began to fire. The bride was shot through the back and fell dying to the walk.

Peterson then turned the revolver upon himself.

AUGUSTA CITIZEN KILLED BY TROOPS

Two Others Are Shot by State Militia During Street Car Strike

MILITIAMEN OBEYED ORDERS

The Persons Killed and Wounded Were Not Strikers—Outbreak Result of Car Company's Refusal to Arbitrate.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 27.—As the climax to rioting in this city and the shooting of three citizens late today, by State militia troops, Governor Brown late tonight issued a proclamation declaring "the city of Augusta to be in a state of insurrection," and ordering the immediate enforcement of martial law.

Adjutant General William G. O'Bear has been ordered by the Governor to proceed here at once from Atlanta and assume charge of the situation. Another company of militia also was ordered here from Waynesboro to reinforce the four local companies under Captain Levy.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 27.—Alfred Dorn was killed late today and two other citizens shot, one probably fatally, by members of the State militia, who had formed a dead line about the 15th street power plant of the street railway company to prevent attack by strikers or sympathizers. The injured are Robert Christie, a business man, shot through lungs; Ben F. Baker, another business man.

The State troops were called out late this afternoon after reports were current that the strikers proposed to dynamite the company's power plant tonight. A dead line was established at each end of the property and the soldiers armed with riot cartridges.

All those fired upon by the soldiers, it is stated, are business men who were driving out 15th street and who claim not to have known that a dead line had been established. It is said the militiamen obeyed orders in firing upon any one who attempted to cross the line.

News of the shooting spread rapidly and attracted thousands to the scene of the trouble. At the same time great crowds were assembling in West End, the mill district, which was the scene of last night's rioting. Just before dark the West End sympathizers spiked the long Broad street bridge, a double row of spikes being driven on each side of each car rail the entire length of the bridge. There was no other attempt at violence in that section of the city in the early night hours.

Despite the announcement earlier in the day that the proposed mass meeting for tonight had been called off by the labor leaders, great crowds assembled at the court house tonight. Union leaders declare, however, they would not permit any inflammatory speeches and it was the announced intention to dismiss the meeting after urging the laboring men to cease violence in connection with the strike.

The outbreak tonight was the direct result of the refusal of the street railway company, through General Manager Beal, to arbitrate the troubles with the striking men. This was announced after it had been stated on behalf of the strikers that they were willing to accept arbitration.

The Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants & Manufacturers' Association and Cotton Exchange, in joint meeting, urged arbitration and commended Mayor Barret's position in enforcing protection of lives and property.

When it became apparent that violence probably would be resorted to tonight a company of militia was thrown about the power plant. The soldiers were instructed to challenge anybody attempting to pass the lines and to fire upon them if their challenge was ignored.

Robert Christie, one of the injured men, was driving in an automobile and evidently did not hear the sentry's cry. He had gone but a few feet when he was shot through the lungs. He was quickly removed to a hospital, where he is expected to die.

Baker and Dorn attempted to drive through 15th street a few minutes later. When they were challenged Baker whipped up his horse and several shots were fired at them. Baker was wounded about the body, but Dorn was literally shot to pieces.

An unknown white boy on a motorcycle was fired upon, but escaped uninjured. Charles Wilson and his wife and child in their automobile also were fired upon. When Wilson attempted to reach down to toot his horn, the action brought another volley of bullets, but the entire family escaped uninjured.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 27.—The labor mass meeting was of an orderly nature. Several speeches were made by union leaders, urging the laboring men to cease acts of violence, and a resolution was adopted which has been telegraphed to Governor Brown, demanding the withdrawal of the State troops. The resolution read:

"Whereas, three of the citizens of Augusta, while peacefully traversing the streets of the city this afternoon were shot down by irresponsible militia, be it,

"Resolved, That we, the people of Augusta, in mass meeting assembled,

McGRAW RESTS VETERANS.

Grooms Men for World's Series—Demaree Not Eligible.

New York, Sept. 27.—Manager McGraw, of the New York Giants, today began grooming his men for the world's series with the Boston Americans. With the pennant race won the recruits will be given the brunt of the work for the remaining week's play, while the veteran players rest in relays, playing just enough to keep in good condition.

It is seldom that McGraw discusses the initial work of his young players, but he said today the debut of Al. Demaree, the Southern League star, in the box against Boston yesterday, was the finest work he had seen done by a newcomer in 20 years of baseball. It was Demaree's first appearance for the Giants, and although the game was crucial to the extent that winning it meant clinching the pennant, the youngster had almost perfect control. He struck out nine men, allowed seven hits, two of which were scratches, gave only one base on balls and scored a shut-out.

Speculation as to how Demaree would figure in the world's series, however, is useless, as he only reported to the Giants on September 4th, a week too late to be eligible. Tesreau is being groomed particularly for "spit ball" pitching against the Red Sox and Mathewson and Marquard probably will each have a chance to start one of the big games.

Montgomery's Franchise is on the Market—Negotiations.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 27.—Montgomery's franchise in the Southern Baseball League is on the market. Negotiations between the baseball association and the Business Men's League, were broken off Thursday afternoon and Richard Tillis, owner of the franchise, announced that he would dispose of the privilege.

The business organization agreed to pay $2,500 a year toward supporting a team, but Tillis refused to sign a contract which carried conditions not satisfactory to the association. Tillis stated that Little Rock's offer of $5,000 was refused several months ago, and that another proposition would have to be made.

The purchase of franchises in the South Atlantic League by Montgomery and Pensacola, is being considered. These cities would be the only places where baseball could be played on Sundays.

PLANS PLEASE RED SOX

Scarcely An Item for World's Series That Is Not Acceptable

Boston, Mass., Sept. 27.—Officials of the Boston Red Sox are pleased with the plans for the world series announced by the National Commission. There is scarcely an item that is not acceptable to the Boston club, unless it is the opening date. Although applications sufficient to take up all the available reserved seats, 16,900 in all, have been received, they are still pouring in, and will be considered in their turn.

Arrangements with the railroads have not yet been made, but it is stated at Sox headquarters that the two clubs would travel between the cities in a special train, which will leave shortly after the day's game in each city, enabling the players to arrive in time to have a good night's rest. The Red Sox figure total possible receipts for each game here at $70,400, divided as follows:

One thousand one hundred $3 grand stand seats, $3,300; 4,700 $2 grand stand seats, $9,400; 1,800 $5 box seats, $9,000; 12,000 $1 bleacher seats, $12,000; 4,000 50 cent bleacher seats, $2,000; 5,000 $1 admissions (estimated), $5,000. Largest single day's receipts at Polo grounds 1911, $77,359.

GARDNER IN WORLD'S SERIES.

Club Physician Says Third Sacker Will be in Good Shape Then.

(Special to Washington Post.)

Boston, Sept. 27.—In the opinion of the club physician Larry Gardner will be in good condition to play in the world's championship series between the Red Sox and the Giants, which will open in New York a week from next Tuesday.

Gardner's injured finger was redressed this morning and was found to be doing very well. The doctor said that from present appearances it would be all right again inside of a few days and that there would probably be no permanently bad results from the accident. Gardner is pleased with the prospects, but cannot possibly be more pleased than will be his friends, and friends of the club, when they hear the good news.

Larry left Boston tonight for his home in Enosburg Falls, Vt., where he will remain for a week or so and get a good rest. He may rejoin the team in Philadelphia and get into one or two games before the regular season closes, and so benefit by a little preparation for the big games that come in the following week.

MEANT NO SLUR ON CUBS

Murphy Says Abstinence Rule Does Not Insinuate Dissipation.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—President Chas. W. Murphy, of the Chicago National baseball club, issued another statement in which he said that any assumption which might have been gained on account of his first statement, that the Cubs had been guilty of wholesale dissipation during the season just closing, was wrong.

He said it was not his desire to give the impression that the club was seeking an excuse for losing pennants. He declared, however, that he was sure better results would follow if the players were total abstainers, and for this reason he had already begun to take steps in this direction for the season of 1913.

NEAR FREEZING AT CHICAGO.

Overcoats Epidemic in Office and Flat Dwellers Shiver.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Overcoats in offices threatened to become the rule among Chicago business men today. From 72 degrees at noon yesterday the mercury fell at the rate of a degree a half hour and rapidly approached the freezing point this morning.

As leases in skyscrapers and apartment houses fix October 1st as the time for beginning steam heat, the cold affected people by thousands.

One family, which included three small children, removed temporarily from a flat in which there was no heat and passed the night in the waiting room of the LaSalle street railroad station. The landlord had refused steam until October 1st.

SENATORS WIN GREAT BATTLE

Washington Takes 19-Inning Game From Philadelphia 5 to 4, Breaking Present Season's Record—Batteries.

Philadelphia, Sept. 27.—Washington and Philadelphia in battling for second place, broke the major league record for this season when they played 19 innings here this afternoon, the former winning 5 to 4. Two games were to have been played, but darkness prevented the second contest. The visitors scored four runs in the first two innings on five hits, two battery and fielding errors and a fielder's choice. After that Plank held them to no runs and six hits for 16 successive innings. In the 19th Williams received a base on balls and Johnson beat out a bunt. Williams was forced at third on Moeller's grounder. Foster forced Moeller at second, Barry to Collins. In trying for a double play, Collins threw wild and Johnson scored the winning run.

Groom pitched the first nine innings for Washington. Twice with the bases filled, scoring was prevented by double plays and in the seventh, with the bases filled and one out, the home team scored on an out. Four hits and an error in the ninth enabled Philadelphia to tie the score. Johnson, who took Groom's place in the 10th inning, was also hit harder than Plank, but brilliant fielding, especially by Foster and McBride, prevented scoring.

Plank, a veteran of 12 seasons, outtwirled both of his younger opponents, the majority of Washington's runs being due to battery and fielding misplays.

ANTI-HOME RULE MEETING.

Renews Adoption of Resolution of Protest—Trouble Today.

Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 27.—The singing of the National anthem by an audience of 3,000 persons, comprising everybody representative of Belfast's great industrial, mercantile, civil and religious community, tonight brought to a close a great anti-home rule meeting in Ulster Hall, amid a fervor which was not equalled even by the anti-home rule convention of 1892. The meeting renewed the adoption of the resolution passed at that convention protesting against a home parliament for Ireland.

The supreme dramatic moment of the memorable gathering tonight was the unfurling and presentation to Sir Edward Carson, the chief propagandist against home rule, of the flag carried by King William at the battle of the Boyne. The flag was greeted with frenzied cheering, contrary to expectations.

No new pronouncement of Unionist policy was made at the meeting. The Ulster watchword is "We will not have home rule," but none of the various speakers nor letters of the influential Unionist leaders which were read, attempted to reveal the plan of resistance if such a plan exists, should King George sign the home rule measure.

In comparison with demonstrations held elsewhere during the past week the absence of talk of armed resistance was noticeable.

The Weekly Outlook tonight makes the startling announcement that one-third of the officers in the British Army are Irishmen, that over 90 per cent of them are Unionist Protestants and they are now considering how to resign their commissions in order to lead Ulster in arms against home rule.

IN THE KANAWHA ZONE

Business Men Assure Gov. They Can Collect Firearms

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 2.—Business men of Montgomery and the various towns along the Kanawha river and adjacent to the martial law territory in the Kanawha Valley, tonight assured Governor Glasscock that they believe they will be able to secure all firearms and ammunition in their towns and thus avoid the necessity of the Governor extending the martial law boundary.

Posters were distributed in Montgomery tonight calling upon the citizens to bring their firearms to the mayor's office and get receipts therefor. Although the foreign element is strong, the business men believe they will be able to fulfill the promise made to the Governor.

In speaking about the situation Governor Glasscock tonight said that he thought it would not be very long before the soldiers will be ordered away from the mining section.

PRICE COTTON PICKER.

Demonstrations to be Given Near Laurinburg, N. C.

Laurinburg, N. C., Sept. 26.—Mr. Theodore H. Price, of New York, arrived in Laurinburg this week and brought with him five of his cotton picking machines. On account of the rainy weather he was unable to give a demonstration with the machines on their arrival, but will begin picking this week in the Jim Bostick field, just outside of town.

It is the first cotton picking machine ever brought to this section and is causing much curiosity among the people, who are waiting to see the machines in operation.

Mr. Price says his company has already finished 20 machines and that all of them are working perfectly and are ready for the market.

The Men Who Succeed

as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half-alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at R. R. ELON'S FINE OPENING.

Largest Attendance in Her History. Mission Board Meets.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elon College, N. C., Sept. 27.—Elon College has had the best opening in all the 23 years of her history. There has been an increase of more than 33 1-3 per cent. in attendance over the attendance last year, which was the best attendance at that time in the college's history. The enrollment today is 295, and not 141, as some of the dispatches sent to the newspapers have given it. The 141, which these papers have given represents the number of Freshmen in the college this year.

The Mission Board of the Southern Christian Convention, which is incorporated, and which consists of the following members: Col. J. E. West, Suffolk, Va., chairman; Dr. J. O. Atkinson, Elon College, N. C., secretary; Rev. H. W. Elder, Richland, Ga.; Rev. J. W. Holt, Burlington, N. C., and Mr. K. B. Johnson, Cardenas, N. C., held its semi-annual meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall of the college on Wednesday of this week, and besides transacting many matters of a routine character, appropriated from the funds in its hands varying amounts to the following churches: Chapel Hill, N. C.; Raleigh, N. C.; Winchester, Va.; Norfolk, Va.; Park Place; Columbus Ga., and Portsmouth, Va. The board also made plans for the management of the Loan Fund for church buildings created by the recent session of the Southern Christian Convention, and placed in its hands as a trust fund, to be administered for the building of Christian churches in the bounds of the convention.

Athletics at the college seem to be taking on new life this year. Coach Doak is exceedingly well pleased with the outlook for baseball and basketball. He is trying out his baseball squad in a number of preliminary contests this Fall with the team at Burlington (amateur team), with the Guilford College squad, and with other nearby teams. He says he does this because Elon does not play football and it shows him what he may expect next Spring. He is exceedingly well gratified with the prospects. Mr. R. N. Miller, the gymnasium director, has taken on to his work with a firm grip, and is putting the men through several drills and training. The gymnasium work is very popular and he is satisfied with the good results which he has obtained. The basket ball manager is also very hopeful of the outlook in this sport and feels that he will be able to put out a winning quint.

The increased attendance this year has made it necessary to increase the seating capacity in a number of the college recitation and lecture rooms, and, in several instances, to divide the classes and run them in additional sections. This is very gratifying.

Rev. W. G. Clements, of Morrisville, N. C., pastor of the Christian church at Chapel Hill, N. C., and a member of the board of trustees of the college, was here one day this week representing the Chapel Hill work and received a great many subscriptions, besides a considerable amount of money in cash for the work at that place. The work on the church there is now well under way and the building will be completed some time this Fall.

BETTER BANK CONDITIONS

National Institutions Show Reduction Of Excessive Loans

Washington, Sept. 27. — National banks in the East and South show reductions of excessive loans in latest reports of their condition. It is likely that the Comptroller of the Currency will impose more frequent examination upon the banks that do not reduce excessive loans.

The excessive loans announced today, as in force September 4th, were: New England States, eight loans, aggregating $18,476 excess; Eastern States, 114 loans, aggregating $487,168 excess, and Southern States, 174 loans, aggregating $566,867 excess.

MARSHALL CLOSES TRACK.

Directs Forces Against Jockey Club—Intended to Gamble.

Indianapolis, Sept. 27.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall today directed his forces against the promoters of the Mineral Springs Jockey Club, which has completed a track and intends starting a race meet in the middule of October, at Porter, Ind. The Governor directed Attorney General Honan to file suit in the Lake-Porter Circuit Court to enjoin the club from opening its meet as scheduled.

Governor Marshall has been in close touch with the situation for several weeks, and recently sent Thomas Branaman, a deputy in Mr. Honan's office, to investigate. As a result, the club postponed its opening from September to October.

Mr. Branaman reported to the Governor that the club was preparing for an elaborate system of gambling, especially for the race followers in Chicago. Since the first postponement it has been learned that the club had prepared for an oral system of bookmaking by which the State officials said it was intended to evade the Indiana gambling laws.

The jockey club was incorporated under the laws of South Dakota. Governor Marshall has ordered the Secretary of State to refuse Indiana corporation papers.

The Governor says there is no politics behind his action, and in speaking of the case, said.

"Just because I am a candidate for office is no reason why I should sit idly by and allow the laws to be broken. Indiana is not going to be the dumping ground for Chicago gamblers. I stopped it at New Albany when the State was becoming the dumping ground for Louisville, and I am going to stop it in the northwestern part of the State, too.

"I'm old enough to remember when we had a law against nine-pins in Indiana. Straight away somebody put another pin in the alley to evade the law. That sort of thing will not go in Porter."

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW.

Buying Goes on Apace—Industrial Operations Are Brisk.

New York, Sept. 27.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Buying in person, by mail order or through the medium of road sales, maintains activity in the various lines of distributive trade. Shipments on orders previously booked are going forward in volume, and one of the most significant features of the general situation is the insistent call for prompt deliveries, which indicates that stocks do not lag superfluous on purchasers' shelves. In a host of lines, one hears the expression that conditions as regards sales are better than for some years past.

The shortage of cars is becoming more noteworthy. Industrial operations are moving along at a brisk rate. Steel plants are well sold ahead, and as a general rule no more orders can be taken for delivery this year.

Labor continues in very scant supply. Collections range from fair to good, although payments from the South are still slow, chiefly because of wet weather and the lateness of the cotton crop.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending September 26th were 228 against 279 last week, and 248 in the like week of 191.

Columbus, O., Sept. 27.—Dillon Axworthy, owned by A. B. Coxe, of Paoli, Pa., today showed racing superiority over 11 other trotters that came on the Columbus track for the Horse Review Futurity's two-year-old division. He did not win in straight heats the first being taken by Lord Allen. The Axworthy colt won rather handily from Lord Allen, in 2:11 1-4, a new mark for him, and a season's record for trotters of that age.

ROWLAND'S BIG CELEBRATION

Three Thousand Gather at Robeson County Town to Celebrate Coming of the New Railroad. Prominent Speakers.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Rowland, N. C., Sept. 27.—The great industrial celebration in honor of the completion of the Maxton, Alma & Southbound Railroad to this place was attended today by a crowd estimated at 3,000. The exercises began about 11 o'clock on the arrival of the special train over the new road. The first thing was a parade of about 300 school children through the principal streets and to the place of speaking, which was in a beautiful grove just on the western outskirts of town. There rough seats and a speaker's stand had been provided.

The speaking began at exactly 12 o'clock. Mr. A. C. Johnston, mayor of Rowland, presided and made a short talk welcoming the great crowd. This was responded to by Major A. J. McKinnon, of Maxton, president of the new road, in a very appropriate speech. The next speech was by Mr. W. M. McIntyre, of Mullins, S. C., who delivered a short address on tobacco growing, urging the farmers to plant a little next year, and showing what great things a good tobacco market will do toward building up a town. Next on the programme was an able address by Hon. A. W. McLean, of Lumberton, who in addition to making some able remarks along industrial lines, introduced the principal orator of the day, Hon. W. C. Hammer, of Ashboro, solicitor of the Tenth judiciti district. Mr. Hammer is a gifted orator and spoke of the great Democratic principles of the day. After he had spoken about 30 minutes the clouds that had been hanging low all day looked more threatening and he had to close a little sooner than he otherwise would have done.

It was now about 2 o'clock and a hungry crowd awaited the barbecue and big basket dinner. Tables of great length had been provided and on them were 13 pigs, cooked just right, besides several hundred full baskets, boxes and soon everybody ate until they had enough and there was still some to spare. After dinner there were athletic sports, such as foot races, etc., but the rain had begun to fall a little and this part of the programme was interfered with to some extent.

It was a great day and everybody had a good time. Music for the occasion was furnished by Rowland's own brass band. When a passenger schedule is put on this new road, Rowland will have as good railroad service as any town of its size in the State. It is located on the main line of the Atlantic Coast Line, midway between Fayetteville and Florence and this new road will give connection with all Seaboard trains at Maxton. As it has been, it took two days to go to Lumberton, the county seat, and return, but over the new road we can go there and back the same day. We can also leave Rowland in the morning and spend a few hours in Charlotte, Wilmington, or Raleigh and return that night. This schedule will likely be put on about the first of December.

CHARGES AGAINST CABELL.

Allegations of Sensational Nature are Made Against Revenue Collector.

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 27.—In a voluminous amended and supplemental bill to a complaint filed in the United States District Court here today, against District Collector of Internal Revenue George H. Brown, attorneys for N. Glen Williams, a Yadkin county, N. C., distiller, make allegations of a grave and sensational nature against United Sttes Commissioner of Internal Revenue Royal E. Cabell. The case is one in which Williams sought to gain an extension of an injunction heretofore granted forbidding the sale of 28,000 gallons of whiskey seized by government officers, and advertised to be sold Monday. Judge Boyd today continued the injun tion and gave the government's attorney until next Wednesday to file an answer to the complaint.

In the paper filed today it is charged that Commissioner Cabell in his actions with regard to the case, has used his powers arbitrarily with a purpose of oppression and that in so doing he was actuated by personal prejudice and ill will towards N. Glen Williams. The document teems with allegations of "ill wil, pique, revenge, rudeness and malice" on the part of Commissioner Cabell toward the complainant. It is also charged that after Commissioner Cabell ordered the whiskey removed, Williams, with R. H. McNeill, 'a Washington attorney, attempted to see Mr. Cabell to show that it was held safely and properly in a warehouse at Williams, N. C.

Cabell, it is said, declined to see Williams, cursed and pounded his desk and threatened attorneys representing Williams with persoal violence and ejectment in the event they visited his office with regard to the case.

The document also alleges that Commissioner Cabell declared that the action of United States Judges James E. Boyd and Jeter C. Pritchard, of Greensboro and Asheville, in handling the case in question, was reprehensible and sufficient to warrant their impeachment.

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 27.—Argument in the habeas corpus proceedings instituted in behalf of John Beal Sneed, accused of murder in connection with the killing of A. G. Boyce, had not been concluded when court adojurned tonight and will be resumed tomorrow morning. It is anticipated that a decision as to whether Sneed should be admitted to bail, will be announced tomorrow afternoon.

RECORD TOBACCO BREAKS

Enormous Sales at Kinston—Scarcity Of Mullits—Big Rattler Killed

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 27.—Enormous sales of tobacco have succeeded each other on the Kinston market this week, and record prices are being paid for the product. A little over 300,000 pounds were sold on the local warehouse floors Tuesday, and the banks of the city paid to the farmers about $60,000 for this one product alone. That sum, a record, was probably exceeded on Wednesday, when a still larger amount of the week was marketed. The average price, too, of nearly 20 cents a pound, was the highest ever paid here with so large a break. On Thursday every warehouse was taxed by the immense sales, 335,000 pounds being offered, the prices averaging about 20 cents. Nearly $67,000 was the sum of the checks drawn on this day. Albert Smith, of Duplin county, sold $1,028 pounds for $442.62, an average of 42 cents a pound.

There is a scarcity of mullets in the Eastern Carolina markets, according to the dealers in the coast towns below this city, due to the equinoctial storms of the past few days. The shortage has been inconvenient for the fish dealers, as it came just when there was an exceptional demand, but the prices have not increased. A hard northeast wind has blown the mullets, now running well in the prime of the season, past the Carolina inlets and further out to sea. The fish, which would have made for the sounds, will not cease their migratory journey now until off the Florida coast, and the North Carolina fishermen will lose a valuable part of the catch, it is feared.

A plucky colored woman, the wife of Thomas Ingram, a tenant who lives on a farm near Trenton, attacked and killed a four-foot rattlesnake in the yard of her home. The snake, a highland reptile, put up a fight even after the woman had broken its back with a pole, and it finally had to be shot before it ceased to strike. The rattler had crawled beneath a rose bush, and from this picturesque position attracted much attention from a motley barnyard assemblage. The curiosity of the fowls caused them to irritate the reptile, and it was in the act of striking in the midst of a lot of squawking hens when the woman saw the commotion. Ingram said the snake, which had six rattles, was as large around as his arm by measurement.

Mr. Jeff Whitaker, son of Dr. R. A. Whitaker, of this city, is expecting orders daily from the Export Leaf Tobacco Company to go to China, where he will be employed in the clercical department of the company. Mr. Whitaker will be stationed at Shanghai, and is one of a number of young Carolinians being sent to foreign points this Fall by the tobacco companies.

A woodcock, the real article, has taken up his abode at the home of Robert E. Cox, money order clerk at the postoffice here, on North McLewean street. The bird has been in the yard at Mr. Cox's home for several days past, and the family think it will become domesticated. The uninvited guest is of a species now nearly extinct, and he is of no end of interest in the neighborhood.

Paul Scott, in trying out for the High School football eleven here, suffered a broken collarbone when he made a leap for the pigskin and fell on his shoulder, yesterday. The young man's injury is very painful, and will keep him from athletics at the High School this year.

GATE CITY SOCIETY

Luncheon In Honor of Bride-to-Be—Trainmen's Auxiliary

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 27.—Mrs. Emanuel Sternberger today entertained at an elaborate luncheon—the first of a series of events being planned—in honor of Miss Mary Fry, daughter of Capt. J. W. Fry, of this place, whose marriage, it is announced, to Mr. Pierce C. Rucker, will take place on the evening of November 7th. Miss Fry is one of the most attractive and popular young ladies of Greensboro and a general social favorite. Mr. Rucker, who came to Greensboro several years ago from Spartanburg, S. C., is a member of the well-known cotton brokerage firm of Hedgepeth & Rucker. The marriage of the popular young people will be celebrated in the First Presbyterian church. It will be an elaborate affair and the social event of the Fall season.

A social gathering affording much delight to more than 150 trainmen, their wives and lady friends was held in Odd Fellows Hall last evening, when the local Auxiliary Society of the B. of R. T. tendered a reception to the Greensboro and Spencer lodges of trainmen, their wives and friends. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and during the evening talks were made anent the object of the Auxiliary, after which a banquet was enjoyed by the Auxiliary and their guests.

BEAUFORT DEMOCRATS

Primary Nominees Ratified—Statewide Primary Favored

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., Sept. 27.—The Beaufort County Democratic Convention, held in the Court House today at 11 o'clock, was largely attended, very harmonious and lasted three and one-half hours. It was called to order by Chairman of the County Executive Committee, L. C. Warren. J. D. Grimes was called to the chair temporarily. Democratic members of the press were made temporary secretaries. The temporary organization was made permanent. Nominees of recent primary were ratified. A motion to reduce salaries of county officers was defeated. The member of the Legislature was instructed to support Statewide primary law and a committee of five was appointed to redraft its present county primary law, provided the Legislature does not pass a State law. A motion to place the recorder's of the county on salary was unanimously passed.

WHITEVILLE NEWS NOTES

Senator Simmons to Speak—An Auto Accident—Personals

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Sept. 27.—Hon. Furnifold M. Simmons, senior United States Senator from North Carolina, will make an address to the voters of Columbus county in the Court House here next Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, according to an announcement received yesterday from his manager, Mr. S. L. Rogers. The Senator has many friends in this section who will give him a warm welcome.

The revival services which are being held at the Baptist church have resulted in many conversions and large numbers of accessions to the church. The preaching is being done by the pastor, and he has an audience that fills the church at every service.

Mr. S. L. Memory, one of the prominent business men of Whiteville, left this week for New York to buy his Fall stock of goods.

Miss Kathleen Baldwin left this week for Richmond, Va., where she will attend the Woman's College.

Yesterday several negroes while driving an automobile through the principal thoroughfare of the town had the misfortune to lose control of the steering apparatus with the result that the machine plunged into a wire fence that was on one side of the road, tearing up the fence fearfully and badly damaging the automobile. The negroes escaped unharmed.

MONEY FOR TOBACCO

More Than $25,000 Paid to Guilford County Growers

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 27.—More than $25,000 has been paid growers to tobacco for their leaf in Greensboro within the past three days, so managers of the two warehouses here say. The coming to the front of Greensboro as a tobacco market is gratifying to the commercial interests of the town. Men familiar with tobacco marketing here years ago say that the present season has approached these banner days if, in fact, they have not been surpassed. Close to a quarter million pounds were sold here the past four days, the price averaging the best in many years.

There are scores of live and growing towns in North Carolina that have no public health service. And in all these places there must be necessarily a high death rate from the preventable diseases.

Who's running New Jersey, anyhow?

Wilson seems to be able to attend to the whole bunch at one time.

Ex-Senator Jim Smith threw his hat into the ring in New Jersey and now he is in the market for a new hat.

Those who play upon our credulity are not musicians, but they give a performance in which we take part for the price of a gold brick.

A lot of people will be fooled into the Progressive party because they believe in what they think it means but doesn't.

Says the Richmond Virginian: "The betting odds against Chafin, the Prohibition candidate for President, are $5,000 to $1." Here's a chance for some plunger to lose one more dollar.

But little more than three months of Leap Year remain, but the girls probably are careful how they leap while it costs so much to live. They might catch a fellow who needs support.

Charity is a virtue which "covereth a multitude of sins." Surely some candidates have depended on charity to cover up the naked truth so it couldn't be seen in public during this campaign.

George Washington was never known to tell a lie, but at that time there were no campaign funds big enough to make it necessary for a patriot to try to cover up the facts on account of their ugliness.

A man boasts that he called Mayor Gaynor a liar to his face, just as if the Mayor would think of breaking the precedent by hitting a fellow for doing what everybody's doing now without being called to account for it.

A California woman is suing her husband for divorce because he had no faults and made her life monotonous and humdrum. Probably he was one of those men who don't care to let their wives know anything they happen do to.

Only as late as Tuesday, President Taft told the newspaper men that all the present and future indications point to his re-election. This shows what an optimist can be when he goes right along playing golf and refuses to read the signs of the times. If Taft is not elected, he knows he will be welcome at the White House when President Wilson is at home. The country will have a President who won't "sick" the White House dog on any ex-President.

While the Bull Moose was vocalizing to an audience at Joplin, Mo., some mollycoddle waded around with a banner containing this strange device: "We want Taft. Let Well Enough Alone.' It made Teddy mad and he leaned over the rail of his car and chewed the rag at the innocent bystander. Teddy lost a fine opportunity to tell the tenderfoot that Taft ain't well enough to be let alone. He's got the gout and requires attention.

A Brooklyn man, feigning anger, pointed a gun at his wife and made her go down on her knees and beg for her life. She thought her last moment had come, but the old man laughed and showed her that the gun was harmless—only a toy pistol for popping paper caps. The joke was on her, but it was cruel. She had been almost frightened into fits, but when the joker was gone she put the police on his trail and he was arrested and taken to jail on a charge of felonious assault. He is still in jail and his wife is enjoying the joke.

PUNK WEIGHED IN THE BALANCE

The men of North Carolina are the jurors in a great political trial which began in June and will continue till the 5th of November, when the verdict is to be rendered. Meanwhile, the evidence is being heard from the mountains to the seashore, and good, honest, reasonable North Carolinians, without regard to past or present political affiliations, are expected to hear the evidence, weigh the facts and decide for North Carolina, and for their wives and children, for themselves, for the good of all the people, and for the good of society. An honest, conscientious verdict cannot be expected from a prejudiced, fanatical, narrow-minded, hide-bound partisan. If there are any of that kind they have to set themselves right, and then leave it to their consciences as to what is best for North Carolina, which is only a concrete way of including all her people, not a part of them, but men, women and children. It is the honest man who will have to bring in the verdict on the evidence and if he goes against it he will do wrong to himself as well as his State.

In North Carolina we have four parties who are appealing to the people to approve their nominations for President, for Governor and for State officials. A part of the evidence involves the principles and policies of the parties, and necessarily character evidence will have to be considered. Character, it must be emphasized, means everything, for, like a man, a party which cannot prove a good character can hardly expect a verdict in its favor. A party which has a bad character need not expect to win unless the people as a mass are short on character in proportion to the party.

The same old Republican party, which we have known since the days of Holden, Kirk and Greasy Sam Watts, is again asking the people for their approval. It has a right to do that if it has reformed and got good. If it has done its best and got respectable, we have to forgive it and forget its sins, otherwise it has such a load of them that it would have to be immediately turned over to the diabolical personality whose photograph shows that his most distinguished features are horns, a forked tail and a three pronged instrument with which he has armed himself to get the goat of moral and political crooks. However, the Republican party pretended to turn over a new leaf four years ago and pleaded with us that it had gotten to be "respectable." "Dr." John M. Morehead, quite a respectable man, took its case in hand and we believe he has endeavored to purge it to the best of his ability. He has had about as hard a task as a peacemaker in the turbulent little Republic of Nicaragua, whose people appear to have been "raised" in a nest of bumble bees.

We people will have to decide whether Brother Morehead has really made the Republican party "respectable." He probably had things going his way a while, for he was right on the job, but while he was holding it down (that is, the job), the respectable Republican party repudiated itself. Probably more than half, some say nine-tenths, of it, heard the bugle fanfaranade of Armageddon and they stalked off after the Bull Moose. Such a desertion from the ranks naturally arouses our suspicion, and we are so full of doubt, that we have to say that it is safer to let the Republican party stay out of power for a great many years and devote more of its time to taking the purge. That's the way it looks to a man up a tree, and we guess we are about right.

We either opine or suspect, one or the other, that when the Republican party in this State couldn't stand for itself and "broke slam in two", as they say over in South Carolina, it is a ground hog case with what is left of it in the hands of the jaunty Tom Settle. After the Bull Moosers deserted it, he had a chance to show that he was a leader, but the remnant met in Charlotte and under his dominancy nominated him for Governor on a reactionary schedule to be operated on the back track. The remnant stuck its nose on the grindstone that is being turned by the special interests and the people see who it is that has the old liners by the nose. Not content, however, with standing by the flesh pots which are kept boiling at the expense of the people, the decadent remnant, petering out in its vitality, put its foot in it(the political grave) by inserting in its platform a local option plank upon which the unwary might walk into a camp flying the flag of the monopolists and trusts whose gluttony demands more tribute from the people.

Howbeit, the average man is not interested in local option right now, for he considers it more vital to reduce the cost of living and resent the tyranny of being taxed to make others rich than he is in making it easy to get a slug of liquor. If local option is a vital question, now would be the wrong time to spring it, for even local optionists would not vote for a special interest party in a campaign involving questions of more tremendous importance to them and their families. Even if anti-prohibitionists wanted local option, they would back away from it at the hands of the Republican party with the wisdom of a mule which would refuse to cross over a rotten bridge to get a bundle of oats. Wherefore, the "respectable" Republican party is passed up with the "N. G." tag tied all over the G. O. P. elephant with his trunk full of punk.

With the Socialist party a mere handful, this leaves the Bull Moosers in the field as the only party making a serious proposition for our votes. It is young and has not established either character or reputation. Its probable character will have to be judged from its ancestor. It left home, it is true, but it is liable to go back, for it has some hereditary traits that start it off in life under a cloud. It pretends to sing psalms and play on a harp with a thousand strings. It is marching to the tune of "Onward, Christian Soldiers," but its band is heading us for the camp of the protectionists who have got our nannie. Protection under Bull Mooseism would be as ugly a monster as it would under Aldrichism.

The Bull Moose has jumped on a bunch of pusillanimous bosses who would not stand hitched to his bandwagon, but he has never seized Aldrich by the hair and dragged him out to the junk heap. We don't know why, for just about everybody else, even the original insurgent Republicans headed by LaFollette, have swatted the great mogul of standpattery. We don't think, therefore, that mogulism and standpattery has ever excited the wrath of the Bull Moose, hence we cannot trust him or his party with our share of chloroforming the bloated beneficiaries of the protective tariff system.

The Bull Moose says he is "standing at Armageddon", but it looks to us as if he is stalking around the rich pastures of special privilege. He might be a tin saint, but he is surely blowing the wrong horn in this fight. Furthermore, his platform proposes to recognize and legalize the outlawed trusts and monopolies which have freebooted and tyranized over the people till they have gotten mad and rended the Republican party, which has even got its own self by the throat. That is the main cause of insurgency, yet Progressivity as she is interpreted by the Presidential nominee of the so-called "Progressive party", is standpattery and special privilege set to the tune of camp meeting religion. We are not biting, are you? Who's a sucker? Not us, on your tintype.

The young, elephant-foided Bull Moose party is a protective tariff party. It goes further than all parties in its proposition to fasten the grip of protected privilege on the throats of the outrageously overtaxed masses, and it begins its political life with a recognition of third termism, a Diazisic trend contrary to the traditions of the men who fought for American freedom and contrary to good National common sense. Even from the days of Julius Caesar, down to the long reign of President Diaz, of Mexico, show us the man, with greed for protracted rule and power, that has not finally been swept away by a wrathful populace. Point out to us in history a single instance where long termism and license of power has not yoked and galled the masses.

Well, we won't stand for it in North Carolina, it matters not what the past politics of her people have been. Tar Heels "stand at Armageddon" to dehorn the Bull Moose and to set snares for the cloven foot in American politics. The so-called "Progressive party" is gently laid on the junk heap and later, but not now, the hard sensed sons of Tar Heelia will Settle what Tom has scented in the rank growing mint beds on the slopes of the Appalachians.

"The Whangdoodle mourneth for his first born" while the clock is stopped at the "Hour of Eleven" for the witches to take a hand primary on common sense.

PECAN GROVES.

All around Wilmington the pecan tree flourishes, and soon there will be on the market a lot of Carolina soft shell pecans which are the finest and best flavored to be had. However, only a few people have trees which are old enough to bear abundantly, although we hear of a few groves of fine young bearing trees here and there. We have heard of one grove which was abandoned because insects or parasites got into it, but that was done because the owner never paid any attention to his trees. He neglected to spray them, and give his orchard attention. Another party bought it and soon had the trees in fine shape.

The first owner could have done the same, but he was like the Georgia fruit grower, who destroyed a great peach orchard because he failed to give it attention in another direction. The Georgian's orchard produced abundantly, but through the lack of a proper distributing and marketing system he failed to make it pay. What he ought have done was to have established a cannery and saved his orchard. Now comes the Savannah News saying that the Americus man who destroyed his peach orchard will set it out in pecan trees. He must have had a whopping big peach orchard, for the Charleston Post says:

"It is his purpose, says the Savannah paper, to give over nearly a thousand acres to pecans, and he will plant the trees this Winter. In the course of 10, 20 or 30 years he ought to have a great nut bearing grove which should be one of the most extensive pecan groves in the world. There is one of these in Charleston county now, bearing the finest nuts that are to be found on the market. It has a good many years start of the Georgia grove and by the time that begins to bear doubtless the Horlbeck grove near this city will far surpass it in acreage. It has now nearly 600 acres of nut bearing trees. The Horlbeck pecan grove is one of the greatest enterprises of this sort that has ever been brought to success. Major John S. Horlbeck has been planting and cultvating pecan trees on his lands in Christ Church parish for a good many years, taking in acre after acre and bringing up the trees with intelligent and diligent care. A few months ago he sold the whole place to a syndicate which has organized for development and extension of the farm of which the pecan grove is a part. This company ought to be an important factor in the agricultural development of Charleston county.

"Almost at the same time another Charlestonian, Mr. Charles R. Barnwell, who, for 15 years, had been cultivating pecans in Georgia, disposed of a grove only a little smaller than the Horlbeck grove. These two groves are probably the largest of their kind anywhere, and it is an interesting fact that they were both brought up to productivity and proportionate value by Charleston men. If the Georgian referred to by the Savannah paper or anybody else wants information about pecan growing he or they "can get it in Charleston."

If those who plant pecans or peacaes expect them to take care of themselves, they are apt to be disappointed. Not, so, however, if intelligent attention is given to the orchards, and consideration is given to the commercial features involved in marketing and preserving crops after they are produced. A lot of old pecan trees near Wilmington have never received any attention, but they are great bearers. They happened to escape attacks and bear enormously, but that is no reason why pecan trees should be left to shift for themselves.

It has been demonstrated that this is a pecan country, and it is hoped the industry will be given the proper chance by attention like that given to the cotton crop. No crop will do well if left to itself.

Roosevelt is soon to appear before the Congressional committee investigating election slush funds. He declares that the Standard Oil contribution of $125,000 to elect him was made without his knowledge. Senator Lorimer's friends got him into the same sort of scrape by their "jack pot" to elect him. He says they did not let him know about it, but he was unseated just the same. By George, Teddy has the advantage of him, as he served out his term without appearing to know that his election had been bought by his secretive friends.

CURRENT COMMENT.

By way of demonstrating his special regard for social justice, Mr. Roosevelt has had his New York executive committee increased by four in order to accommodate four influential negroes whom he had appointed to the places. No Southern negroes, however, except perhaps Dr. Crum, need apply.—Chattanooga Times.

Some present-day critics who frankly admire Woodrow Wilson raise the question of his practical experience and his qualifications as a leader. His active experience in public affairs, of course, is limited to his two years of service as Governor of New Jersey, and if it is not long enough to satisfy, it at least stands the test of quality. Gov. Wilson has shown himself a strong leader in his State and has reconstructed its policies along advanced lines. It is not too much to say that in the past two years he has led in making over New Jersey from a State where privilege and personal politics had sway to one where the rights of the people were respected and where the people might be truly said to rule. He has been a practical leader for his party also, preventing the old machine from dominating it.—Boston Globe.

One of our correspondents, ex-Mayor Johnson, of Chester, makes a telling point in his letter against Mr. Roosevelt's advocacy of the recall of Presidents of the United States. Mr. Johnson recalls very aptly the fact that in all probability, if the colonel's form of government had been effective in 1862 Abraham Lincoln would have been recalled in the midst of the war that determined our destines, and this great republic would have collapsed in desolation and ruin. Lincoln's total vote in 1860 was 1,866,452. His opponents numbered three, and of these, Douglas, Democrat, received a vote of 1,375,157; John C. Breckinridge, Independent Democrat, 847,953, and John Bell, the Constitutional Unionist, 590,631. Lincoln was greatly in the minority of the popular vote; his opponents combined received nearly a million more votes in a total vote of 4,080,000.—Philadelphia Ledged (Ind.)

Chief of Police Beavers, of Atlanta, has begun a war on disorderly houses in that city. Every known resort in the tenderloin has been notified to close by midnight Saturday night and a strict surveilance of the cheap hotels of questionable character will be maintained. From accounts, the "lid" will be clamped down tight and it is thought effectively. Just how long it will stay down remains for the future to develop, but the chief appears to be in dead earnest. He says these resorts are violations of the law and the law he intends shall be enforced. The problem he has tackled is one as old as man. It has been grasped with enthusiasm and vigor by reformers many times, but the result has usually been a drawn battle. No doubt the twentieth century is better equipped to stamp out the evil, and the reform movement in Atlanta will help to determine whether or not it can be stamped out.—Savannah News.

It takes about hree years to grow and fatten cattle for the beef market. This is the explanation offered for new high meat prices in the face of huge corn and forage crops. It is the explanation given for the prediction that meat prices will rise higher and will keep higher through the Winter and perhaps through the next year or two. We had a great corn crop in 1889, and beef and pork prices next year fell below the average. We had a corn-crop failure in 1901, and meat prices at once rose 20 and more per cent. We had another great corn and cattle-feeding crop in 1902, and meat prices immediately fell nearly 30 per cent. It's a poor rule that doesn't work both ways. What has happened that a rule which used to work both ways as between the tariff-protected Meat Trust and the people now works only one way, and for the trust? But in any case it does not take three years to remove the tariff on meat and let in Argentine and Australian competition. That can be done within a year if the people so vote next November. —New York World.

WILLIAM HOBBS CHADBOURN

Esteemed Wilmington Citizen Passed Away at Southport Yesterday. Funeral Here Today at Noon—The Services.

Death removed yesterday evening, shortly after 6 o'clock, at Southport N. C., one of Wilmington's most valued and most highly esteemed citizens, Mr. William Hobbs Chadbourn, after a long and serious illness.

While the death was not unexpected, Mr. Chadbourn having practically been an invalid for several months, yet the announcement that he had passed away came as a distinct shock to hundreds of friends and relatives here and elsewhere. Early during the Summer the family had removed to Southport where it was hoped that the salubrious climate would make the last days of Mr. Chadbourn as comfortable and where he could be as quiet as possible, a desire for which he had often expressed. Earlier he had visited several specialists in the North and had been given the best of medical and surgical attention, but little hope was held out and Mr. Chadbourn returned to Wilmington fully resigned to the inevitable, remaining bright and cheerful, however, to the end and enjoying at all times the companionship of his friends and members of the family.

Mr. Chadbourn was born in Sanford, Me., February 18th, 1841, and was, therefore, in the 72nd year of his age. He had always led a most active life and was remarkably well preserved for a man of his years, having been up and constantly about, even through a greater part of his last illness. His early life was spent in Maine and his education was completed at Harvard University in 1862, he having graduated with the honors of his class in that year. It was soon after his graduation at Harvard that he married Miss Adelaide S. Peters, of Cambridge, Mass., who preceded her husband to the grave by only a few months, after a long and happy wedded life. Soon after his marriage he came South and located in Nashville, Tenn., where for many years he was engaged in the cotton business, removing in 1871 to Wilmington and becoming associated with the late Mr. James H. Chadbourn as one of the firm of James H. Chadbourn & Co., later the Chadbourn Lumber Company. He was active in this business until 1904, when the large plant in this city was sold to the Waccamaw Lumber Co., and it was subsequently removed more nearly to the centre of its logging operations at Bolton, N. C. After the sale of this property, Mr. Chadbourn had been engaged in various enterprises requiring technical business ability and closed up the affairs of the big Kanawha Lumber Corporation, of Conway, S. C., of which he was receiver. He was a man of keen business insight, upright and honorable in all his transactions and had been a marked success in life until health forbade his participance in the more active affairs of business.

For a number of years he had been president of the Oakdale Cemetery Company, of Wilmington, and since its organization some 25 years ago had been president of the Citizens' Building & Loan Association, the success of which is a high compliment to his conservative business ability and hs capable management of financial affairs. During his busy life, he had also been prominent in railroad building in this section of the Carolinas, and was at one time president of the Wilmington, Chadbourn and Conway Railroad, prior to its sale to the Atlantic Coast Line. He was also one of the builders and had been an officer of the old Wilmington Seacoast Railroad, between Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach. He was of the constructive type of man and leaves his impress upon the affairs and the business of the community in which he lived so long.

He was prominent in the Masonic fraternity and was a member and at various times had been an officer of Orient Lodge, No. 395, A. F. & A. M.; Concord Chapter No. 1, R. A. M.; Munson Council, Royal and Select Masons, and Plantagenet Commandery, Knights Templar. He was held in the very highest esteem by members of the Masonic fraternity and in no circle was the announcement of his death received last night with more profound sorrow.

Mr. Chadbourn is survived of the immediate family by his son, Mr. Wm. H. Chadbourn, Jr., of New York; by one daughter, Mrs. George C. Worth, of Wilmington; by four grandchildren and one great grandchild. The bereaved ones have the tenderest sympathy of a host of friends in their sorrow.

The body was prepared for burial at Southport last night and will be brought up to Wilmington on the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railway, reaching the city this morning at 8:45 o'clock. The casket will be borne to the First Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Chadbourn was a devoted member, and the funeral will be conducted from there at noon by the pastor, the Rev. John M. Wells, D. D. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BISHOP.

Services Were Held Yesterday From Trinity Methodist Church.

The funeral of Mrs. Bishop, widow of Rev. F. A. Bishop, whose death occurred in Statesville Wednesday of this week, was held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Trinity Methodist church, conducted by Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, presiding elder of the Wilmington District M. E. Church, South. The services were announced to be held at Grace church, but a change had to be made on account of the fact that the interior of the church is undergoing considerable improvements. There were present a large number of sorrowing relatives and sympathizing friends and many handsome floral designs attested the esteem and respect in which Mrs. Bishop was held. Interment was in Oakdale cemetery and the pall-bearers were Rev. John C. Wooten, pastor Grace Methodist church; Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist; Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist; Rev. E. C. Sell, pastor of Trinity Methodist; Rev. Andrew J. Howell, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian; Rev. M. O. Alexander, assistant pastor of the First Baptist.

FERTILIZER PLANT BURNED

Factory of Pearsall & Company at Fernside Destroyed Early Yesterday Morning With Large Amount of Stock.

Fire of an unknown origin, yesterday morning between 3 and 4 o'clock, destroyed the fertilizer plant of Messrs. Pearsall & Company, at Fernside, in East Wilmington, about a mile and a half from the city, entailing a loss of upwards of $50,000, which was pretty well covered by insurance.

Occurring about the same hour as the spectacular fire on the west side of the river and the heavens being ablaze with light from this conflagration, the fire in East Wilmington was discovered by few people in the city during its progress and it was not until later in the morning that news of it reached Wilmington. The plant was modern in every respect and completely equipped, having been running but two years, and its destruction is regretted, although the owners have already announced that it will be rebuilt as speedily as possible and in plenty of time to make next Spring deliveries.

The fire was first discovered by an employe of the plant living on the premises, but at that time it had already gained more headway than the limited facilities at hand could combat. The plant consisted of three buildings, constructed together from time to time as the business grew, the whole tier being about 80x350 feet in size. It was equipped with the latest machinery for the manufacture and mixture of fertilizer according to the company's own formulas and the product enjoyed a wide sale throughout this territory. Already the plant had been stocked prior to beginning operations for the coming season and the loss in stock alone is estimated at about $25,000. The buildings, machinery, implements, etc., would perhaps inventory about the same amount. Insurance was carried to cover the greater part of the stock and the plant was also insured.

No one had been on the premises since about 5:30 o'clock the afternoon previous to the fire when some machinists were at work on some repairs to the factory preparatory to starting operations. Mr. Oscar Pearsall, president of Pearsall & Co., stated last night that as quick as the material could be assembled work on the rebuilding of the plant would be undertaken.

The destruction of the plant was complete. The insurance will total $41,000, which was divided between the agencies of Messrs. Wilder & Metts, C. L. Dickinson and J. H. Boatwright & Son.

SHOT AT BURGLAR.

Negro Entered Home of Mrs. N. H. Quince Early Yesterday Morning.

The home of Mrs. N. H. Quince, No. 18 North Seventh street, was entered by a negro yesterday morning about 6 o'clock and he barely missed carrying away a pistol ball for his trouble. Mrs. W. B. Moore, who with her husband occupy an apartment down stairs, was awakened by a noise on the second floor. She awakened her husband who went to the door opening from their room on the back porch. A negro was seen going down the stairway from the second floor. He had evidently heard the talking down stairs. Mrs. Moore screamed and called to Mrs. Quince, sleeping on the second floor, whom she knew to be up, to shoot. The negro went out so rapidly that Mr. Moore could not get his hands on a firearm, but Mrs. Quince did and she fired in the direction of the negro, who had in the meantime darted in an alleyway.

It was learned later that the negro after jumping a fence in the yard, hid behind the servants house in Mr. Ike Solomon's yard. He was seen there by the negro woman who lives in the house, but she was afraid to give the alarm until after he had gone. Quite a number of people living in the neighborhood were awakened by the pistol shot. Nothing was missed from the house. The negro before entering the house pulled off his shoes and left them on the porch downstairs. In leaving he took the shoes with him. The matter was reported to the police and an investigation is being made.

BUSY DAY IN SUPERIOR COURT

Negro Convicted of Burglary and Given Twenty Years in Penitentiary—A Variety of Cases Were Disposed of.

Superior Court moved along yesterday with that same speed that marked the opening session Thursday afternoon and as a result the docket was cleared of a large number of cases. The criminal term of court ends today and a two weeks' civil term begins Monday. It is not unlikely that a special criminal term will be held in December, so much of the present term having been taken up with the Holly trial at Burgaw. The term scheduled for December is for the trial of civil cases only. It is Judge Carter's idea to try Holly on the arson charge at the December term in the event a special term is secured.

The most important case yesterday was one in which John Teachey, colored, was charged with entering the house of Mr. J. H. Salling, on the Castle Haynes road, on the night of August 16th. It was decided, upon suggestion of Judge Carter, to try him for second degree burglary. L. J. Poisson and Cyrus D. Hogue, Esqs., had been assigned as counsel for the negro, but when the case was called Lawyer Brooks appeared and stated that he had been retained by relatives of the defendant, therefore the other attorneys retired from the case. Teachey was found guilty and Judge Carter sentenced him to 20 years in the penitentiary at hard labor.

A nol pros was taken in a case against James Blackledge, colored, who was charged in the warrant with "locking up a house without telling anybody." There appeared to be no statute covering such a case so a nol pros was taken. The trouble arose over a lodge in the county. There were two distinct factions in the lodge, each claiming to be "it." Blackledge, it appears, had the key to the building and locked the door. This was the basis of the charge, it appears. The case was sent up by a magistrate in the county.

A case against Will A. Davis, a young white man, charged with false pretense, was continued for the defendant on account of the absence of his counsel, Robert Ruark, Esq., who is attending court at Southport this week.

Joe Johnson, colored, who seriously cut Mr. C. J. Helmes, a street car conductor, on the belt line, one night a few weeks ago, was charged with assault with deadly weapon. The negro admitted that he cut the conductor and Judge Carter very promptly gave him two years on the county roads. The conductor was seriously wounded and had the gash been a little deeper the jugular vein would have been severed.

A case against George Holland, charged with the larceny of a pair of opera glasses belonging to Mrs. Kenan, was continued for the State.

Lisbon Payne, alias Lisbon Noble, colored, charged with larceny, through his attorney entered a plea of guilty, whereupon he was sentenced to three months on the county roads.

Jesse Powell plead guilty to assault with deadly weapon and disorderly conduct, judgment in both cases being suspended upon payment of the costs. Annie Rollins, sc fa, was discharged upon payment of the costs. A case against Matthew Pearsall, for larceny, was nol prossed with leave.

Dave Williams plead guilty to a charge of embezzlement and was sentenced to one year on the county roads. The negro formerly worked for the F. E. Hashagen Co., driving a delivery wagon for the company. He was given two bags of sugar to be delivered to E. Dinos and failed to make the delivery.

A large number of nolo contendere cases were continued under former order. The defendants in these were: J. F. Mason, T. F. McAlister, W. H. Biddle, J. W. Capps, H. E. Truelove, M. Brunjes, J. Sternberger, J. T. Newman, H. Gieschen, J. G. L. Gieschen, M. L. Starkey, Geo. Schnibben, F. W. Ortman, J. A. Westbrook, J. H. Brunjes, V. VanOesen, W. J. Kerr, J. H. Ottaway, C. A. Werkheiser, E. B. Snipes, R. W. Woodcock, W. M. Woodcock, Fox Riley, Ira Scott, Robt. Davis, Jas. E. Holton, J. E. Ennette, Walter Boesch, J. W. Capps, J. E. Taylor, D. L. T. Capps, W. E. Beaton, H. A. Kure.

There were two sci fa cases against D. N. Stanley and in both judgment absolute was rendered upon payment of costs. Stanley is now serving a road sentence of 12 months on the county roads from Superior Court for selling whiskey. In a sci fa case against John Southerland, colored, charged with a crime against nature, was nol prossed. In a case against O. E. Merritt for violating the prohibition law alias capias was issued and a similar order was made in the case against J. M. Anderson. The case against W. H. Whipple, a white man, charged with nuisance on account of alleged disorder around the Queen Theatre conducted by him, was continued under the same bond.

Joe Luke, alias George Hankins, plead guilty to a charge of false pretense, and was given six months on the county roads. George Galloway, charged with embezzlement, plead guilty and received a sentence of six months on the county roads. Cases against Maud Martin and Bessie Talley, women of the underworld, charging nuisance, were nol prossed.

The last case taken up in the afternoon was one in which John Arginier, a white man, and Carrie Meares, colored, are charged with living together. The jury was selected and empannelled, but examination of witnesses does not begin until today. Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., appears for the defense.

Last Dance at Lumina.

The last regular dance of the season will take place at Lumina tonight. An orchestra of five pieces will furnish the music. In addition to the regular schedule an extra train will leave Front and Princess streets at 8 o'clock and leave Lumina at 10:45.

REPORT ON CONVICT CAMPS

Special Committee Appointed by Judge Frank Carter Completes Its Work and Is Discharged—Report As Read

The special committee appointed by Judge Frank Carter at the last term of Superior Court to make investigations of the convict camps of the county, with special reference to the camp on the Federal Point road, made its report to Judge Carter yesterday morning. Mr. J. Allan Taylor was chairman of the committee and the other members were Dr. John Thames and R. Harllee Bellamy. Most of the recommendations made by the committee have already been put into effect by the County Commissioners.

The report was read in open court for the benefit of those present. Judge Carter thanked the members of the committee most heartily for their work. A copy of the report was ordered placed on file in the office of the Clerk of Superior Court and Judge Carter requested that the city papers publish the same in full. The report follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 26, 1912.

"To His Honor, Frank Carter, Judge Holding Court in Fifth Judicial District.

"Greeting: The committee appointed by your Honor at the July term of court to investigate the conditions of the convict camps of this county, with special reference to Federal Point road camp, submit herewith their report:

"We made a thorough investigation of the conditions at each of the camps, with the following results:

"The Federal Point road camp was found to be in very bad sanitary condition; sleeping quarters badly crowded; the food insufficient in quantity and variety, and eating appointments exceedingly crude; means for personal cleanliness meagre and general dissatisfaction among the convicts.

"At this camp a cage is used for sleeping quarters.

"The Castle Haynes camp was in very good general condition; food of greater quantity and variety; sanitary conditions fairly good; sleeping quarters commodious and no complaint among convicts.

"At this camp cage is used for sleeping quarters.

"The East Wilmington camp is permanent in character, and is used also as a hospital. The general conditions of this camp were reasonably satisfactory, although additional sanitary precautions were thought desirable, such as screening of windows and doors, etc. The appointments are commodious in all respects, and there were no complaints from convicts.

"After examining the camps, we ordered the convicts from the Federal Point road camp, that had been temporarily removed to the jail, transferred to the East Wilmington camp, where they remained until the Federal Point road camp had been put in proper condition.

"We appeared before the Board of County Commissioners and submitted a memorandum of standard conditions which in our judgment were necessary for the humane and efficient maintenance of these camps, and the Commissioners met the suggestions in a spirit of ready compliance. A copy of the memorandum is attached hereto, and these suggestions have been carried out in spirit as all of the camps. Where the suggestions have not been carried out literally the modifications have had our approval.

"The Castle Haynes camp, being in general satisfactory condition, has not been materially altered. At this camp the cage is partially protected by a large tree, and the number of inmates being small, it was only necessary to improve the sanitary conditions. There are no convicts at this camp at present.

"All of the convicts express themselves much pleased with the present conditions, and evince a spirit of cheerfulness remarkable under the circumstances.

"We are of the opinion that the very unsatisfactory conditions formerly existing at the Federal Point road camp were due to an incompetent and unreliable foreman, and to infrequent and superficial medical inspection. The foreman at this camp has been changed, and if the suggested medical inspections are properly carried out there should be no reason to apprehend a return of unsanitary conditions at any of the camps.

"We have performed the duties imposed upon us in an impartial spirit, and would accept no pecuniary compensation for such a public service.

"The report is made in duplicate in accordance with the order of the court.

"Respectfully submitted,
"J. A. TAYLOR,
"R. H. BELLAMY,
"JOHN THAMES,
"Committee."

The memorandum referred to in the report was printed in The Star at the time it was given to the County Commissioners and it is deemed unnecessary to reproduce it here.

FIRE ON THE RIVER FRONT

Turpentine Distillery of George L. Morton Company Destroyed Yesterday Morning—Damage Will Not Exceed $8,000

The Star in its second edition yesterday morning carried briefly the story of a fire on the west side of the Cape Fear river at the turpentine plant of the George L. Morton Company, nearly opposite Market street dock. The origin of the fire is not known unless it started from spontaneous combustion. The loss entails about $8,000 upon which there was no insurance and consisted of the turpentine distillery of the plant and adjoining warehouses, though a large part of the stock on the yards was not damaged.

The fire first appeared on the east side of the river as a small blaze and pedestrians at that early hour—3:20 A. M.—hesitated at first to send in an alarm, thinking perhaps the watchman on the grounds had started a smouldering fire to drive away mesquitoes. However, it was but a moment until the entire distillery was in a light blaze and an alarm was sent to the fire department from box 41, Water and Market streets. The apparatus and men were soon on the scene, but on account of the lack of facilities for getting over the river, little could be done until the river tug Cadet could get underway and bring over a flat from the west side of the river upon which an engine was sent over. Meantime the fire boat had responded from its station at Water and Chesnut streets, but it was some time before a stream could be gotten on the burning property. A boat's crew from the United States revenue cutter Seminole responded in command of Lieut. Abell and they formed a bucket brigade which did effective work. Adjoining property was saved, although the fire had about spent its fury when effective work could be done on the property in which the fire started.

Capt. Jesse Wilder, actively in charge of the George L. Morton Co., stated yesterday that there had been no fire on the premises for over 30 hours and he could not account for its origin. He also remarked rather caustically on the fact that while property on the west side of the river is taxed and taxed heavily, the city affords comparatively no protection in the way of fire and police.

The plant was modern in every respect and a number of improvements had been made in recent years. It is expected that the plant will be rebuilt in a very short time and that the business of the company will suffer very little, if any, interruption on account of the blaze. A large amount of stock on the yards on which the company carried insurance was not burned.

Chief Chas. Schnibben, of the Fire Department, desires in connection with the blaze to return especial thanks to Lieut. Abell and his corps of men from the revenue cutter for the splendid service rendered.

CAPT. SANDERS IN HAVANA

Loses His "Best Sunday-Go-To-Meetin'" From Tug Blanche

A recent issue of the Havana Daily Post, of Havana, Cuba, has the following interesting little local story that will be read with interest by many of Capt. W. A. Sanders' Wilmington friends:

"'Havana is certainly one bad place,' said Captain W. A. Sanders, commander of the good ship Blanche, now in the Pesant dry dock, yesterday after he had notified the harbor police that some reprobate had actually entered his cabin and stolen his fancy 'go-on-shore' cashmere suit. Not only did they take the cashmere suit, which Captain Sanders asserts was 'some suit,' but the miscreant, fearing that he might overlook something, walked off with the captain's valise containing practically all his wardrobe with the exception of what he had on at the time.

"Capt. Sanders was asked by the police if he knew who stole his clothes. The worthy salt replied that if he had possessed that piece of knowledge he would not have bothered the police about it."

Seminole Returns From Beaufort.

The revenue cutter Seminole returned Thursday night from Beaufort, where she was ordered to render aid to an unidentified vessel, now believed to have been the Spanish brig Aniceto. The brig had been dangerously near the beach a short distance from the Core Banks life saving station, but was relieved by the wind shifting and had already put to sea when the cutter reached the scene. Nothing whatever was seen of the Aniceto, and after cruising around for a few hours the Seminole returned to her station here.

TITLE TO PROPERTY.

Messrs. T. A. Green and W. C. Petty Secure Deed to Lots.

On account of the death of Mr. Jamieson, of Charlotte, one of the promoters of the new hotel for Wilmington, which occurred a few months ago, and the decision of the heirs not to take stock in the hotel, it became necessary to go through certain formalities in order to give the other promoters a clear title to the property on the southeast corner of Front and Walnut streets, which had been purchased as the site for the hotel. Messrs. T. A. Green, of Spartanburg, S. C., and W. C. Petty, of Charlotte, both well known hotel men, who were associated with Mr. Jamieson, were here yesterday and received a deed for the property from Mr. H. F. Wilder, who had been appointed by the court as commissioner to wind up the affair. The amount paid by them to the commissioner was $33,000. Included in the properiy are two lots. The one immediately on the corner is known as the Borden lot and is 66 feet on Front street and 100 feet on Walnut street. The other is known as the Solky lot and adjoins the corner lot on Front street. It is 33x165 feet in size.

The deed was filed for record yesterday and this ends the matter so far as the title to the property is concerned. The promoters hope to begin the erection of the hotel just as soon as possible.

ANNUAL CLUB FROLIC WAS DELIGHTFUL EVENT.

The annual frolic of the Carolina Yacht Club last night at the handsome club house on Wrightsville Beach was attended by about 150 members of the organization and was a thoroughly enjoyable affair in every respect. The committee of arrangements headed by Mr. James T. Munds, had planned well and everything passed off most pleasantly for all who attended. The party occupied a special car of the Tidewater Power Co., leaving the city shortly after 8 o'clock and returning at the pleasure of the club members. The prizes won in the past season's regattas were presented in graceful manner by Commodore A. B. Skelding. Capt. Edwin A. Metts was awarded the prize silver cup presented by Messrs. Pembroke Jones and Henry Walters and the Class A flag for the year 1912. Capt. John VanB. Metts won the silver pitcher presented by the club.

Refreshments were served during the evening and music was discoursed by the Boston Italian Band. The affair was in every way most charming.

Maxton, N. C., Sept. 26.—News has just reached here from Laurinburg of the marriage of W. E. Utley to Miss Lena Thomas. These young people are Maxtonians and are quite popular among the younger set. Their closest friends had no intimation of their intentions and the whole affair came as a decided surprise to all. When they started out with Mr. Gilbert McKinnon for an automobile ride nothing was thought for this had happened frequently. After they had gone to the country they asked Mr. McKinnon to take them on to Laurinburg. To this he consented and when near the neighboring town they had him to stop his car and then told him their plans. This was the first intimation they had given to anyone of their intentions. They proceeded to Laurinburg, there securing the necessary license and then sought the home of the minister, who in the presence of his wife and Mr. McKinnon as witnesses, soon performed the ceremony. Mr. Utley is assistant cashier of the Bank of Robeson and came to Maxton two years ago from Sanford. During a part of his stay here he was bookkeeper for the McKinnon Co., but for most of the time has held the position he now occupies. Miss Lena is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thomas and is a very beautiful and charming young lady. She has had her home here only a very short time, coming here with her parents from McColl, S. C., less than six months ago, yet has won, by her charming and gracious manner, a host of friends. There were no objections to the match except the age of the young lady, she being a Miss of 18 Summers, but the hearts of young and old laugh at objection. Shortly after the ceremony they boarded the Seaboard train for Hamlet and the supposition is that they will go to Sanford where the groom's parents live, after which they will return to Maxton and make their home.

BANK ROBBER CAUGHT

Year's Chase Ends In Capture of Noted Yeggman

St. Louis, Sept. 27.—A year's chase following the $302,000 bank robbery in New Westminster, B. C., ended in St. Louis in the arrest of J. C. Adams, who was declared today to be wanted as one of the robbers.

The arrest of his supposed wife, known to the police as Jeanette Little, of Edwardsville, Ill., early today completed the task of the local police and private detectives who had been holding Adams since his arrest early Wednesday morning.

Adams, who was also known as Walter Stacey, was declared by the detectives to be one of the two men who beat Police Lieutenant Burns, of Chicago, into insensibility in a saloon, when he tried single-handed, to capture them on the night of September 19th.

When Adams was arrested by the St. Louis police, he was entered in the books under the name of Stacey and a charge of murder was placed against him. It was explained that he was a suspect in a local case.

In the meantime his photograph, taken in a few hours after his arrest, was sent to Chicago. There it was identified Thursday as the picture of one of Lieutenant Burns' two assailants.

The man arrested as Adams or Stacey is believed by the local Bertillion experts to be George West, reputed leader in the Canadian bank robbery. The detectives said they knew him only as Adams or Stacey.

THREE YEARS ON ROADS.

This the Sentence Imposed Upon Julius Hill, Colored, Yesterday.

Julius Hill, alias "Dude", colored, was the star performer at yesterday's session of the Recorder's court with Boy Bosom, alias Bud Harris, also colored, taking second honors. Julius Hill is the negro who shot Hattie Haywood at her home on 11th street Monday morning and then gave the officers an all-day chase to capture him. The woman was shot in the head and was at first thought to be seriously wounded, but an examination at the hospital disclosed the fact that she would soon recover. Hill was chased all day by members of the police force and finally located in a house at Eighth and Dawson streets about sundown. He was arrested and lodged in the city prison. He claimed that he shot the woman accidentally, but the evidence was to the contrary. For this offense the Recorder gave him two years on the county roads. Hill was also called upon to answer a charge of assault with deadly weapon upon Ben Peet colored, and for this he was given an additional one year, making a total of three years on the roads. He gave notice of an appeal, but later thought better of it and notified court officials that he would join the road force immediately.

Boy Bosom, alias Bud Harriss, colored, was arraigned on a charge of larceny, it being alleged that he stole a quantity of provisions from railroad cars and from the A. C. L. depot. The State failed to make out a case on this charge and the warrant was amended to trespass and the defendant sentenced to 30 days on the roads.

V. M. Reaves, white, a cripple, was charged with drunkenness. He was fined $5 and costs and the Recorder stated that in default of the amount he would have to go to the roads. He had not raised the amount yesterday afternoon. He was before the Recorder on a similar charge a short time ago, but in the first case judgment was suspended.

Willie Williams, colored, was charged with vagrancy. The evidence was that he had arrived in the city only Thursday night and judgment was suspended on condition that he go to work at once or leave the city.

NOVEL EVENT SCHEDULED.

First Review Ever Held of an Aeroplane Armada.

Paris, Sept. 27.—The first review ever held of a complete aeroplane armada took place this morning at Villacoublay, near Paris. Seventy-two French army flying machines, with their full complement of pilots and observers and the attached park of motor trucks bearing supplies therefor, passed in review before the French Minister of War, Alexandere Millerand.

The airmen and their craft had just returned from the army maneuvers at which they had achieved many triumphs. They made an imposing display when they lined up on the parade ground.

At the close of the review, M. Millerand made a speech.

An extraordinary spectacle was presented at the conclusion of the review when 20 aeroplanes rose in a flock, circled for a few moments over the parade ground and then sped off eastward to resume their stations on the German frontier.

..Theatrical..

"The Traveling Salesman" was the offering at the Academy of Music last night and it pleased a fair-sized audience. Robert Lee Allen, as Bob Blake, the traveling salesman, was a whole show himself and caused many a good, hearty laugh.

The leading female role was taken by Miss Rosalind Randolph and she handled it in a most pleasing manner. All other members of the cast were good. "The Traveling Salesman" is a breezy comedy which depicts characteristic scenes and incidents of the drummer life on the road and while there is nothing about the play to cause last night's audience to rave over it, yet they were well pleased with the production.

Musical Comedy

The announcement that the Academy of Music will next week offer popular price musical comedy has been received with great glee by amusement lovers. It is something unheard of—musical comedy at 10, 20 and 30 cents—but nevertheless, it is going to be a reality and an awfully jolly one, too, because the attraction will be Mills & Bernard, the well-known German comedians, supported by a strong company of vaudeville people and a real Broadway Beauty Chorus.

The repertoire will consist of late music shows, obtained by payment of big royalties, and the opening bill, Monday night, will be the jolly, tuneful connection, "Hurly Burly," which is filled with laughs, music and song from the rise of the curtain to the fall of the last. It bristles with catchy music numbers, in which the dainty, graceful chorus plays a conspicuous part, and it also gives chance for plenty of clever vaudeville and during the run of the latter will be seen such bright stars as Mills & Bernard, Al. Watson, noted Hebrew comedian; the Bernard sisters, clever dancers, and others. The company is headed by Elizabeth Rewena, a prima donna, who has appeared before in the South with great success. She has sang in grand, as well as light opera, and is the possessor of a charming voice, while being a decidedly clever actress.

Seats for the opening performance, Monday, went on sale at Plummer's this morning.

Saturday at the Bijou

Big day this is going to be at the popular Bijou. This amusement palace, the mecca of ladies and children in the afternoon, and the popular resort of grown-ups at night, and where the price never changes—5 cents at any and all times—is going to make this a rousing week-end. In order to bring about such a delightful climax to a week that has been one of the biggest in its career, the Bijou management has planned a swell and giant sized programme for today. The film bill will be headed by the greatest political story ever made into moving pictures. It is Edison's "The Governor," and it is a film with snap and plenty of fire. It has well been hailed as the "film of the hour," as it precisely fits into the spirit of the day, and hence it has been received with great gusts and interest by the people. It cost the Bijou a pretty penny to obtain this film, but the Bijou never follows. It always leads, regardless of expense. "The Governor" is a film that will prig the heart and excite the mind. It tells of political intrigues and manipulation, out of which "The Governor" rises superior and conquers. It's a great story, and should be seen as flashed on the big Bijou screen today.

As its leading fun-maker for today the Bijou offers another one of those mirth-provoking films, "Hans and Fritz." This time the two clever German comedians go on a trip to Canada and the mix-ups that occur will make a horse laugh. The film is called "A Gay Time In Quebec," and it is certainly a gay time for the onlookers.

Week-end at The Grand

People have come to know and appreciate that for the week-end the Grand Theatre always offers something just a little better than on other days during the week in special compliment to the large attendance each Saturday and today will be no exception to the rule.

Not only will the offering in the moveys be especially large and most interesting but Mr. Leonard Chick, the soloist, will sing one of the greatest march song successes of the age. It is, "I Want A Girl Just Like the Girl That Married Dear Old Dad." This has been possibly the greatest success in popular songs ever written and Mr. Chick in this number will be heard to the very best advantage. In the pictures "The Little Girl Next Door" is an Edison and the little girl happens to be a rich little girl. Across the way there is a little blind girl and the story that is told of the two is full of human heart interest and will be found one of the prettiest pictures shown in some time.

Then of the two other feature pictures, one is a Pathe, "The Bandit's Spur." He has ordered an Indian to get him two spurs and then refuses to pay for them. There is a robbery and one of the spurs is lost. The sheriff gets on the trail and there is enough real sensation in this film to make it grip the attention from start to finish.

The Grand now has a complete orchestra, effects for all pictures and should prove popular especially today.

PACKING APPLES.

Government Agents to Give Instructions—Raleigh News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 27.—S. B. Shaw, assistant State horticulturist, will leave Sunday for Greensboro, where he will be joined by T. B. Cooper of Hood River, Ore., and together they will go to the mountains of North Carolina to give demonstrations in packing apples in barrels and boxes. The State agricultural department last Spring gave practical demonstrations in pruning and spraying fruit trees, and the demonstrations this Fall will be for the purpose of showing the growers how to market their fruit. Mr. Cooper comes from the famous apple growing section of Orange, but Mr. Shaw says he will show him as fine fruit as ever grew in the West.

They will be in Wilkes county Monday and Tuesday; Surry, Wednesday and Thursday; Watauga, Friday and Saturday; Swain, Monday; Haywood, Tuesday and Wednesday; Buncombe, Thursday, and Polk Friday.

Mr. Shaw will at once begin collecting apples for the exhibit at the State fair. The space this year is twice as large as it was last and as the fruit crop was generally good he expects to have the best exhibit ever placed by the department.

Nearly all of the appeals from the Sixth district, to be argued in the Supreme Court next week, are from Wake county, the appeal of L. J. Norris being of most local interest. Norris was convicted and sentenced to 20 years for the murder of J. B. Bissett, the killing occurring last August and the conviction last September. After the conviction Norris at first pined away in his cell, but here of late has been as cheerful as was possible for a man to be in the circumstances. Another important case is that of Gill vs. Wake Commissioners, the matter of a special tax election, Judge Ferguson having held that it was necessary to include women and non-resident property owners in a petition for an election for special school taxes.

John Burch, negro, was sentenced to 18 months on the roads in Wake Superior court for entering several residences and stealing trousers and clocks. The court also passed judgment on three big scrappers from the Morrisville section. The men used knucks, knives and sticks following a glorious time of drinking hard cider. W. H. Arnold and Newton Burgess were fined $20 and Fred Burgess was fined $10 for their part in the frolic.

Mrs. William H. Rogers and three children arrived in the city tonight from Washington, D. C., to attend the funeral of her husband who was electrocuted late Thursday night by touching a charged spike on an electric light pole. Mr. Rogers and a friend were talking, when Mr. Rogers reached up and grabbed the spike as a support. Immediately he was almost doubled up and knocked into the street, dying almost instantly. He was employed as a plasterer on the new State building, was 35 years old and is survived by his wife and three children and his parents and a brother.

Seven small children were made orphans when W. O. White, a laborer in the employ of the Norfolk Southern, was crushed to death by a cave-in of the cut in which he was working. His wife died three weeks ago, and the children, it is said, have not a near-relative living.

Hon. Tom Settle, Republican candidate for Governor, has announced the following appointments: Charlotte, Wednesday, October 2nd, night; Concord, Thursday, October 3rd, noon; Salisbury, same day, night; Hillsboro, Friday, October 4th, noon; Durham, night; Henderson, Saturday, October 5th, noon, and Raleigh at night.

MR. MEARES IN CHARLOTTE.

Spoke to Small Audience in Queen City Thursday Night.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 27.—Iredell Meares, of New Hanover, State candidate for Governor on the Progressive ticket, spoke for two hours last evening at the court house to an audience of about 125, including a sprinkling of Democrats, who had come out to hear the Progressive candidate discuss the issues.

Mr. Meares in his speech confined himself well to the issues of the campaign, aiming his arguments at both Democratic and old-line Republican nominees, and declaring that his party alone represented the true progressive spirit. He declared that while these two parties had declared "hands off" in matters relating to social and industrial justice, the Progressive party alone had declared for action and that without delay.

Mr. Meares said that Mr. Theodore Roosevelt was the man alone who had been making history while Wilson was writing history and Taft was merely exercising the legal mind on these questions and making arguments but doing nothing. Mr. Meares declared that in its last analysis the Progressive movement was nothing more than an effort to apply practical precepts of Christianity to politics. "If Mr. Roosevelt had been a member of the Jewish Sanhedrim," he declared, "and the question of the fate of the Master had come up, Mr. Roosevelt would have bolted the Sanhedrim and gone out with the Gentile party if necessary in answer to the gentle pleadings of the Master."

The speaker dwelt much on what he termed the religious setting of the movement and said that Progressiveism was a movement directed to the achievement of social justice. He read at length from both Taft's and Wilson's utterances on various questions, comparing these with Roosevelt's. The Progressive movement, he maintained, was not a Roosevelt movement, but one of deeper meaning and meant that the people were waking up to the real needs of the hour and the calls for reform and were determined that the rule of special interests also should come to an end.

GARDNER AT WARSAW.

Presidential Elector Makes Eloquent Appeal for Democracy.

Warsaw, N. C., Sept. 27.—Hon. G. Ellis Gardner, Democratic Presidential elector, spoke here tonight in the opera house to a large and appreciative audience. A number of ladies graced the occasion with their presence. Mr. Gardner expounded the principles of Democracy with earnestness and enthusiasm, and his illustration of the iniquitous Republican tariff law was superb. He gave a brief resume of Republican misrule in North Carolina in contrast with the glorious record of Democracy, and produced facts upon which the opposition will be knocked out in the coming election.

His mental picture of Woodrow Wilson as the true champion of the people, in contrast with the record of Taft and Teddy, won the admiration of his audience and votes for Woodrow Wilson. In short, this speech was a strong appeal for Democracy and much good will result from his visit to Duplin.

Some men talk more about their wife's cooking than they do about their mother's.

Do you like to do business with people or concerns who keep faith with you—who fulfill all their promises? You do, of course, you do—everybody does.

When The Fidelity Trust & Development Company promised all city conveniences and improvements to purchasers of lots in SUNSET PARK, it meant a pledge of considerable magnitude and importance There were some, perhaps, who questioned our ability to completely fulfill so momentous a pledge. But we never had a doubt—because the entire project had been conceived and planned with infinite care and pains, and with a view to doing JUST WHAT WE AGREED TO DO.

The visitor to SUNSET PARK today will see just how completely we are keeping faith with the public. They will see macadamized boulevards and streets, wide granolithic sidewalks, $2,500 ornamental entry-ways, a perfect sewerage system, pure artesian water—all of which we promised—and all of which we now offer as an ACCOMPLISHED FACT.

Transportation, gas and electric lights were three of the features we promised. We have, however, been unexpectedly delayed in making definite announcement regarding their installation.

We are now gratified to state that a contract was closed this week, between this corporation and the Tidewater Power Company, which provides for the immediate installation of

Street Car Service, Gas and Electric Lights

for SUNSET PARK.

The Tidewater Power Company, recognizing the certainty of SUNSET PARK'S future as a high-class residential section, with the business enterprise which is characteristic of that company, have contracted to extend the Greenfield car line to SUNSET PARK. The line will run out Federal Point road to the main entrance of Central Boulevard in SUNSET PARK. A later extension will be made westward down Central Boulevard to Riverside Drive on the river front. The Tidewater Power Company agree to complete the extension to the Park within sixty days, and to thereafter maintain a regular service.

Wires for the electric light service will be installed simultaneously with the street car installation. The gas mains will be at once extended from the city limits, and will be completed in ample time for connection by the first home-builder in SUNSET PARK.

These arrangements with the Tidewater Power Company completely fulfills our last promise of city conveniences and improvements and should remove the last vestige of doubt as to the advisability of the purchase of a lot in SUNSET PARK—whether as a home or as an investment.

You're going out tomorrow, of course!

COTTON WAS SOLD HEAVILY

Opening Was Steady at a Small Decline—Close Was Barely Steady, 7 to 16 Points Lower—Ginner's Report

New York, Sept. 2.—Reports of better weather in the South and claims of increased Southern offerings were accompanied by very heavy selling in the local cotton market today, and the close was barely steady at a net decline of from 7 to 16 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 4 to 8 points, and active months sold 7 to 9 points net lower right after the call under liquidation attributed to the circulation of October notices, bearish Liverpool cables, higher temperatures in the Southwest and claims that the cold snap had run its course, without having caused any widespread damage to the crop. The October notices were estimated at about 60,000 bales, but leading spot houses were good buyers of October around the ring at about 35 to 40 points under January, while profit-taking by recent sellers of later months also helped to steady the market at the decline. After working up to approximately the closing figures of yesterday on this support, however, the market weakened again shortly after midday under a continuation of active liquidation, particularly through Wall Street brokers, and the lowest level of the day was reached in the late trading, when active months sold about 13 to 16 points under the closing figures of yesterday. Reports that the National Ginners Association made the condition of the crop 69.1, comparing with their report of 76 per cent last month indicating less deterioration than had been anticipated, in view of the mid-month's report of 67.4 per cent, undoubtedly contributed to the late break, when sentiment was also influenced by reports of lower Southern spot markets and of increased Southern hedging.

Spot quiet. Middling uplands, 11.55; do. gulf, 11.80; no sales.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Big Receipts Have Tended to Depress Prices, But Fear of Frost Has Kept Bears on Good Behavior—Estimates.

New York, Sept. 27.—Big receipts and Saturday October notices of 50,000 to 60,000 bales have tended to depress prices of cotton, but this effect has been offset in a measure at last by the fear of an unusually early frost. That might have distinctly bad results in a season when over much of the belt the plant is undoubtedly two to three weeks late. Fear of frost has kept the bears on their good behavior.

Also exporters who had sold for September shipment have not found in all cases an easy matter to fulfill their contracts and, therefore, had to pay relatively high prices. It is a fact, too, that the condition of the cotton goods industry, both at home and abroad, is distinctly prosperous, far more so than it has been for years past. Both American and European mills are making money. There is a good margin of profit between the price of raw material and prices of cotton goods at the present time. Latterly some of the spot houses have been buying. It is urged, too, that as outside speculation is dormant and yet offerings are on the whole well taken, it must be that spinners are buying on a larger scale than many have supposed them to be. Waldorf-Astoria operators have latterly been buying to some extent, though that resort was supposed to be a hot bed of bearish sentiment in cotton. Memphis and other Southern centers of the cotton business have been sending buying orders. A rumor which may be given here for all it is worth is to the effect that the next report by the National Ginners' Association will state the condition at not much over 64 per cent. Wall Street and Western commission houses have been buying on a scale down. Not a few have been impressed by the market's power of resistance in the face of all drawbacks. Declines have often been followed by quick rallies. The big receipts at Texas points have had a tendency to discourage buying for any pronounced rise. At the present time, Liverpool has sent selling orders. Its spot sales have been small. There has been a pressure of hedges on the market at home and abroad. The big Texas receipts lead some to believe that the crop will be larger than last year in that State. The high rates for ocean freights are restricting the export trade. It is feared that when the receipts increase east of the Mississippi that the difficulty in getting ocean tonnage may have a prejudicial effect on prices. At the moment, however, trading in cotton futures is on a very moderate scale as very many prefer to await the government reports next Wednesday, when it will give an estimate of the crop and the total of the ginnings. Friday's decline, however, has injured the prestige of the bulls.

VISIBLE COTTON SUPPLY.

Amount is Shown by Secretary Hester to be 2,700,205 Bales.

New Orleans, Sept. 27.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton issued today shows the total visible is 2,700,205 bales against 2,436,169 last week and 2,218,783 last year. Of this the total of American cotton is 1,913,205 bales against 1,652,169 last week and 1,581,783 last year; and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 787,000 against 784,000 last week and 637,000 last year. Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,467,000 bales against 1,083,000 last year; in Egypt 62,000 against 37,000 last year; in India 425,000 against 356,000 last year, and in the United States 846,000 against 743,000 last year.

STOCKS MANIFEST STRENGTH

Regardless of the Monetary Situation Undertone of Market Was Strong. United States Steel Was Very Active.

New York, Sept. 27,—Regardless of the monetary situation, which was sufficiently tense to cause local banks to call more loans, today's stock market manifested a strong undertone. Money on call opened at a fraction under yesterday's initial rate, but soon rose to 6 per cent., at which figure the bulk of the day's loans were negotiated. The rate eased in the afternoon, when the stock market recorded its top prices under the lead of United States Steel, which scored its highest price of the year on exceptionally large offerings.

The further rise in Steel and allied issues was generally attributed to trade conditions, which show increased activity at all leading centers of that industry.

Among the strong and active railroad stocks were Canadian Pacific and its ally, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie; New York Central, Reading and Illinois Central. In the final hour Rock Island and the Gould group also became active at smart advances.

Bonds were steady, with special strength in Wabash, Pittsburg terminal issues. Total sales, par value, $2,600,000. United States government bonds unchanged on call. Total sales 608,000 shares.

A statement issued by General Manager Deal, of the street railway company, states that the men who left the company's employ, and whom, he declares, joined in the rioting last night, have no further claim on the company. He asserts that the company stands ready to operate all its cars as soon as they are given sufficient protection, which the company claims, as its right.

MRS. GILBERT POISONED.

Former Wife of Rosenthal—Important Witness in Case.

New York, Sept. 27.—The reported mysterious poisoning of Mrs. Dora Gilbert, former wife of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, received official confirmation today in a letter addressed to Mayor Gaynor by Dr. L. R. Hibbe, who was called in to treat the woman. He gives no details of her illness, but avers that he was denied admittance to Bellevue Hospital, after she had been removed there, and demands an immediate investigation.

The act that the woman is an important witness for District Attorney Whitman in the Becker case," says the letter, "makes my request for an immediate and thorough investigation an imperative necessity. Coming along so soon after the notorious police intimation of other witnesses, it confronts not only upon the hospital authorities, but seems to be another intimation that minor members of your administration are endeavoring to protect Becker in every possible way."

District Attorney Whitman has instituted an inquiry into the reported poisoning. He said he expected Mrs. Gilbert to figure largely at the Becker trial. She was a witness he could not spare, he added, and he thought an investigation advisable. Tonight Mrs. Gilbert was reported to have recovered.

MAXTON NEWS NOTES

Carolina College Opens—Land Sale—Other News

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton, N. C., Sept. 27.—Carolina Methodist College opened its doors yesterday for the first session. Thirty-six girls have matriculated up to the and President S. E. Mercer has assurances that several more will matriculate before the end of the week. The faculty, consisting of ten members, has been on the grounds for some days and had things so well in hand that classes have already been formed and recitations will begin regularly tomorrow.

This opening is considered fine and all those concerned with the advancement and progress of the college express themselves as being highly pleased with this beginning.

Carolina College was begun several years ago and after various vicissitudes of fortune, the administration building, the only one of the group yet completed, emerged and is acknowledged as the handsomest in the State. It is hoped to start the erection of one of the dormitories within a short time and have it ready for the 1913 opening.

The land sale, conducted by the Greensboro Auction Co., here Wednesday, disposed of over $10,000 worth of property, selling about 40 lots in the northeastern residence section of the town and six business lots adjoining the Bank of Maxton building. Some of this property sold well but the prices received for the residence lots were not altogether satisfactory and the sale was stopped before all had been disposed of.

R. L. McLeod, president of the Bank of Robeson, together with his wife, is expected home tonight from Pine Bluff, N. C., where he went yesterday to attend the marriage of his niece, Miss Julia Rosey.

Rev. H. G. Hill, D. D., and Rev. W. B. Hwain, Jr., pastors of the Presbyterian churches here and at Floral College, are attending the meeting of Presbytery in session at St. Paul's.

The Maxton Mutual Building and Loan Association which was organized in March with 1,100 shares, and has up to the present time loaned $6,500, has opened its books for the beginning of another series.

The Maxton, Alma and Southbound, a new railroad from here to Rowland, will be officially opened tomorrow for pasenger and freight service. Rowland is to celebrate the event with a picnic and barbecue. Quite a delegation will go from here, among them being the officials of the road. The home office of this road is in Maxton and its president, Major A. J. McKinnon, is highly pleased with its prospects.

The Elbe Mfg. Co., is running its cottonseed oil mill night and day, but on account of the very green condition of the seed is not crushing its full capacity of 120 tons per day. This company has been very successful here, paying last year a 30 per cent dividend on its common stock.

The answer of the Democratic Executive Committee to the question, "What is a Democrat?" is far from satisfactory to the local voters and unless a change is made in this ruling quite a number will refrain from participating in the Senatorial primary.

Delaware Breakwater, Del. Sept. 27.—The transport Prairie, carrying 800 marines, which left the Philadelphia navy yard today bound for Santo Domingo to guard American interests there, passed out to sea shortly after 6 o'clock tonight.
